Edwards -- 'I quit'

Brewer captures 2nd nod

Bob Brewer pledged this week that he would continue his policy of "student leadership in student government" after he won a resounding victory over two opponents in last week's ASFC elections.

BREWER COPPED 270 votes to Joel Primes' 109 and George Edwards' 77. Brewer's victory marked the first time in Foothill's history that an incumbent was returned to office.

Edwards, who led a vigorous campaign for the college's top government position told the Sentinel he had no plans to run for office in the future.

EDWARDS SAID, "Student apathy is too great for a reform ticket, and I'll never run for anything here but reform."

In an election run-off Tuesday, Ron Ross, 141 was swept into the ASFC vice presidential position over Bob Kathieser, 128.

The rest of the ASFC offices are: Secretary, Marilyn Schroder; Commissioner of Finance, Bob Anderson; Commissioner of Activities, Barry Hunt won out over John Feccanin and Dana Young; Commissioner of Communications, Eileen LaFontaine.

Out of the 456 total votes cast, 40 per cent of the total voters were Sophomores. Bob Newhouse was given the nod over Sue Cristich for Sophomore Class President.

Newhouse plans to have Sophomores play a bigger role in student government.

CAROL BARSOTTI ran unopposed for the Vice Presidency.

Pom-pom Melodee Faulstich, was elected Sophomore Secretary over Larry Fogel.

Barbara Downey was unopposed for Treasurer.

For the Freshman Class offices, James Craddick was the single entry for President.

The race for Vice President

Foothill Sentinel judged first-class jr. college weekly

The Foothill Sentinel for the fourth consecutive semester has been judged a First-Class newspaper, an honor shared nationally by only six other junior college weeklies.

The Sentinel earned this award for last spring's work. A letter from the American Collegiate Press, which conducts the semi-annual Newspaper HonorRatings, was received recently by Warren A. Mack, Sentinel advisor.

Editor Larry Stammer, who was City Editor that semester, remarked upon hearing about the award, "Of course we are pleased. I am sure that Stu Prentiss (former Editor) will be pleased. But we're still shooting for that All-American award."

was the closest one in the election. Diane Copeland polled 125 votes to Ellen Allgaier's 113.

MERLE FRIEDENBERG polled 26 more votes than did

Jody Schenck for the Secretary position.

For Freshman Treasurer, Tom Stepovich was elected over Annette Schenck.

JOY SUPREME—Bob Brewer, ASFC president, seems to be one happy fella as he grins from ear to ear. This was his reaction to being the first ASFC presidential incumbent to attempt and successfully be re-elected to the office.

'On The Town' cast for March showing

Both the music and drama departments of the Division of Fine Arts are joining forces to stage "On The Town" in the early part of March.

According to Leslie Abbott, drama instructor, "The Leonard Bernstein musical has concluded auditions with Dina Hubbell, Ann Harroun, Tom Bullock, Jerry Grant, Ron Taylor, Whit Mather, and John Allan, set for the key roles."

Music direction will be by Royal Stanton with Revay Anderson handling the choreography.

DANCERS APPEARING in the musical include Dee Combs, John Johnson, Brad Lowman, Diane Morehouse, and Carrie Hawkins.

Other dancers are Sherry Riddell, Melodee Faulstich, Barbara Downing, Margot Washington, and Louise Taggart.

The costumes for the Broadway hit are being handled by Ellen Allgaier and George Leontovich is designing the sets.

"ON THE TOWN" is a story about three sailors on a day's liberty in New York City. The sailors meet three girls, and the plot develops around the various escapades they get involved in.

The play will be presented on March 2, 3, 9, and 10 in the college theatre.

Flint guess proves true; FC isn't easy

At the beginning of the fall semester Foothill President, Dr. Calvin Flint told the new students at Foothill that one-third of them would not be attending at the end of the semester.

These mid-term deficiency notices are commonly referred to by the students as "cinch notices." These notices are mailed to the student's residence.

Out of 5517 day and evening students, 2773, over half received mid-term grade deficiency notices. According to Dr. Robert DeHart, Dean of Students, 3243 of these notices were issued.

TWELVE HUNDRED and seven notices were issued for "F" work, while 2036 were issued for "D" work.

Instructors are more free with mid-term notices than they are with the grades," Dr. DeHart stated. "An instructor will give a deficiency notice as a warning to the student and will usually give the student the benefit of doubt at grade time."

ACCORDING TO Dr. DeHart only a few students were dropped at the mid-term because of grade point average. He also pointed out that the fall semester seems to be running about average with the preceding semesters, "Although there were more people on the honor roll in each semester than the previous semesters."

San Francisco Symphony heard; Peninsula Symphony to play Jan. 20

The San Francisco Symphony gave its second performance at Foothill College last Saturday. The presentation was the second in a series of five concerts scheduled for the college during the next four months.

Three selections were offered: Mozart's overture to "La Clemenza di Tito, Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 1, and Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 6 in B Minor.

LEON FLEISHER was the featured guest pianist for this performance. His selection was Beethoven's first concerto. Alfred Frankenstein, in the San Francisco Chronicle, said of Fleisher and an earlier performance of Beethoven's first concerto, "He had great talent . . . the right training and the

"It will be interesting to see the results of the fall semester," said Dr. DeHart.

Half of U.S. frosh will quit in 4 years

STANFORD—Approximately half the freshmen who enter American colleges will drop out during the next four years—and about 40 per cent never graduate, according to John Summerskill, vice president of Cornell University.

Writing in "The American College," a thousand-page study of college drop-outs, Summerskill says there's been no appreciable change in college drop-out rates during the past 40 years.

He bases this conclusion on a review of 35 major studies of this problem, from 1913 to the present.

Nationally, approximately one out of three drop-outs occurs for academic reasons, Summerskill reported. The drop-out range for individual institutions is from three per cent to 82 per cent.

According to Summerskill, "The largest number of drop-outs involve motivational forces—goals, interests, and satisfactions relative to college and other facets of the student's life."

right breaks, and he justified it all with his performance of Beethoven's first concerto . . ."

The Peninsula Symphony Orchestra will play Saturday, Jan. 20, at 8:30 p.m. with Conductor Aaron Sten directing.

David Abel, violinist, will be the featured soloist. Mr. Abel was previously heard at Foothill in a concert during Dedication Week.

ADMISSION TO this concert will be by season memberships or general admission tickets, $1.25 adults, 50c students and children. Ticket reservations may be made by calling 948-4233.

The San Francisco Symphony is slated for three more concerts at Foothill: Feb. 10, March 17 and April 7.

New era has begun

A memorable semester has come to an end. A new era has begun. From the beginning of this semester you the students have been in on the ground floor of the creation of a new concept in California education, the community college.

This experiment, which actually began on the old campus in Mountain View but didn't become a complete reality until the El Monte campus opened its doors, has gained Foothill national recognition.

The San Francisco Examiner featured a front page pictorial in one of its Sunday supplements and other bay area newspapers have covered the beauty and magnificence of the school's architecture.

Foothill received an early first in the unveiling of the new campus as the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra for the initial time in its 50 year history scheduled a series of performances away from San Francisco. The Foothill Gymnasium was the scene as the series began on Dec. 16.

Such controversial speakers as Dean Manion, Linus Pauling, Norman Thomas and Carl Prussian stood before Foothill faculty and students revealing individual political and social convictions. Chancellor Buell Gallagher gave the dedication address of the illustrious campus during Homecoming Week.

With all the attention heaped upon Foothill as the school attained a sudden amount of importance, there dropped into the officials' lap the remnants of what happened aboard a student train returning from a football game at Monterey. After the commotion died down and students learned they wouldn't be penalized from any activities, it was felt that since no direct harm resulted, the proper corrective measures were taken.

The Skyline Chorale and Ensemble's performance at the Christmas program and the Dark of the Moon presentation by the Foothill Players were both professional and much applauded productions.

It was a semester of achievement, attention, anger, apathy and ailing grades. See you at spring registration.

Carl Reiner and Mel Brooks cut an LP album a year ago called the "2,000 year old man," which met with mixed emotions.

The album features Reiner as the straight man who is interviewing Brooks, the 2,000 year old man. Brooks, with his quick ad-libbing, had the night clubbers rolling in the aisles by the time it was half over.

Let's imagine I was interviewing a 2,000 year old student at Foothill College in the Campus Center and what he would say.

Q—What do you think is the greatest accomplishment you have witnessed here at Foothill in the last semester?

A—Two things mainly. One, the shiny new coffee cups and no 8 o'clock classes.

Q—You mean to tell me that coffee cups and no 8 o'clock classes rank, in your opinion, higher than such things as this multi-million dollar campus, its outstanding facilities, the play "Dark of the Moon" and Homecoming Week?

A—Those were pretty good, too.

Q—In the many years you have lived on this Earth I would imagine that you have held quite a few jobs.

A—Yes, as a matter of fact, my last position was right here at Foothill. You see I was a boxing referee on the Monterey Rooters train.

Q—Oh, what is the matter?

A—Well, you see back many, many years ago during the Bronze Age, I was going to this little trade school. Of course, the curriculum they had to offer was somewhat limited. I finally got a degree, but of course they didn't call them degrees then, and went to work as a vice-president of this company that later folded. I had this invention called the wheel and they fired me because they thought it was too simple. Boy, were they fooled a few hundred years later. Unfortunately none of them were around to be fooled. You see they were dead.

As the hour grew late and the nut sitting next to me started getting under by skin, I figured out a way to draw the discussion to a halt with one final question.

Q—Well, I think I have kept you long enough so is there any parting words you would like to leave to the youth of today?

A—Yes. Never drink coffee out of paper cups, never park in the lower parking lot, stay away from academic courses and drink lots of butter milk, it's the greatest drink in the World. Well, almost. I like scotch.

Dr. Flint sums up F.C. first semester accomplishments

Summing up Foothill's first semester at the new Los Altos Hills campus, Dr. Calvin Flint listed the five most important accomplishments which he considered most outstanding.

The first of these accomplishments, according to Dr. Flint, was that of the contractors in getting the campus ready in time to open September 5th.

"The contractors exerted every effort to make it possible for us to move in on time. Fixed chairs and tables were installed on September 4th, Labor Day, to enable us to open on the following day," Flint continued.

FLINT SAID that the second great accomplishment was the ten-day "Dedication Week" during which over 8,500 people toured the campus. Public reaction was very good, according to Flint.

"The third of these accomplishments," Flint continued, was to present to the public as many community projects as possible, including the Forum series of noted public speakers and the five concerts of the San Francisco Symphony scheduled to be held at Foothill this year.

"Fourth," Flint said, "was the continuation of the effort by the student body to develop rules of conduct and to display responsibility in the handling of student affairs. This has made it possible for the Administration to turn over greater responsibility for the handling of their own activities to the student body." As an example of this increased responsibility Flint noted that the recent dance at San Francisco was "the best conducted college dance I've ever seen."

AS THE fifth Foothill accomplishment of the semester Flint listed "the screening of some 4000 applicants for 23 new Faculty members whom we believe can add much to the educational progress of Foothill."

International Assignment

By Larry Stammer

The aggressive action by India on Goa, Damao and Diu is more than an attack on Portugal. It is a stunning blow to the United Nations. It may have proven what has long been said about the power of the U.N., i.e., it is ineffective.

A number of repercussions can be expected by the "peace loving" action of Mr. Nehru.

There are no less than four reactions—all of them lead to more. It's like placing matches side by side. Once you light one, the rest of them go in rapid succession.

The first is that India has set a definite precedent for other countries to follow. Nehru's action gives other countries "justification" to follow in his footsteps.

The most prominent one, of course, is the "liberation" of Dutch New Guinea by "President" Sukarno of Indonesia. The area is primitive and of no use economically to the West or to Holland. But it is located in a strategic area and more importantly there is a very important matter of principle involved.

Holland is an ally of the United States. Should the United States support the Netherlands militarily if she is attacked? We should according to treaty.

Then there is Iraq who wants to march into Kuwait in the name of liberation from colonialism.

There is Red China's dispute over land in India, Burma and other countries. Don't forget Formosa. The Red Chinese have always professed to "liberate" Nationalist China. North Korea has never settled its dispute with South Korea. Laos, the Congo and a number of other can be cited.

The UN has utterly failed to live up to its charter and the above nations know this. It gives them little reason for second thought about "liberation" ideas.

Now Portugal is threatening to withdraw from the U.N. Can she be blamed?

Still another point to consider: The U.N. member nations are either refusing to pay their assessments or are unable to do so.

Finally Americans in influential positions in the government and the press are saying, "What's the use?" They say we may as well quit.

Khrushchev has tried to destroy the U.N. in numerous ways. He ridiculed the late Dag Hammarschold and he proposed the infamous "Troika" system. The Soviet Union has vetoed 99 times. But the lack of action by the U.N. in Goa seems to have brought it closest to destruction.

Is this what the U.S. has wanted? Should America withdraw, the U.N. would surely collapse. And when that takes place even less will be accomplished and the "neutral" nations will begin to "liberate" the "captive territories of Western imperialism."

Counseling exams begin January 12

Counseling exams will be given today and on Jan. 20 and 25.

The schedule according to Mrs. Mildred Corbett, is Jan. 12 and 25, ACT tests from 6:00 p.m. to 9:15 p.m. and English Essay tests from 9:30 p.m. to 10:10 p.m.

On Jan. 20, ACT tests are from 8:00 a.m. to 11:15 a.m., English essay from 11:30 a.m. to 12:10 p.m. and Math Qualifying tests from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Shell will stop Red talks

JOSEPH C. SHELL
... would outlaw Red speakers

By LARRY STAMMER
MENLO PARK — Joseph C. Shell, one of the four Republicans vying for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in the June primary, applauded Foothill's forum series last week in an interview with this newspaper.

Shell, who considers himself a conservative, said the Foothill forum series was "good" but he pledged to stop known communists from speaking at state supported colleges and universities if he is elected governor.

SHELL SAID he is opposed to allowing communists, "by definition," to speak at state colleges and universities.

"I am absolutely opposed to this but this doesn't mean I am opposed to free speech. What I am opposed to has to do with the advocacy of the overthrow of the United States."

He applauded the Foothill forum program which has this past semester invited Norman Thomas who ran for the presidency of the United States six times on the Socialists party ticket and also Dean Manion of the John Birch Society.

SHELL IS a political conservative. However he said he is not a member of the John Birch Society. "I am an anti-Communist and so are members of the John Birch Society." Shell said he believes in the aim of the society but he added he didn't agree with Robert Welch, the society's leader and founder.

He described some of his friends who are in the society as "constructive, dedicated citizens."

Asked if he thought the John Birch Society was an asset or a deficit to the apparent conservative upswing in the country, Shell said he didn't think the society was the controlling factor.

THE LOS ANGELES assemblyman predicted Goodwin Knight would withdraw from the GOP primary. The prediction followed a disclosure in a San Jose newspaper last week by Robert Alderman that Knight may withdraw from the race because of illness. Alderman resigned last Thursday as Knight's statewide campaign chairman.

Shell disclosed "a great deal" of Knight's campaign workers have abandoned the former governor and are swinging their support to Shell.

However Knight's camp said their candidate would begin campaigning in Southern California in February and would not withdraw.

Marines will land on Foothill campus

A Marine Corps Officer Selection Team will visit the campus Tuesday, Jan. 16 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to conduct interviews with students interested in obtaining officer commissions.

Captains John W. Parchen and R. D. Ross, USMC, will be available at the Campus Center to answer questions about the programs offered.

Training for qualified freshmen and sophomores is conducted under the Platoon Leaders Class. This leads to a commission and advanced training as either an aviation or a field officer when the bachelor's degree has been earned.

No military classes or drills are required by the PLC or the PLC (Aviation) program during the school year. Training is conducted during the summer at two six-week instruction periods. Graduation from college is required before the candidate may be commissioned.

Instruction is given at Quantico, Virginia, with flight training in its beginning stages being conducted at Pensacola, Fla. Travel expenses, uniforms and pay are provided by the Marine Corps for the two six-week instruction periods.

National ladies mag features FC coeds

Foothill College has recently come to the attention of Americans throughout the nation. In the January issue of "Mademoiselle," a fashion magazine devoted to college and career girls, four pages features five Foothill College models. The new 12.4 million dollar campus was the setting for the article.

Coming out to the west coast from the magazine's New York office, Mrs. Angelica Cannon, Mademoiselle representative, and a photographer, screened almost two hundred student candidates before they selected five to model.

Chosen were Annette and Jody Schenck, Joy Phillips, Heidi Kunze, and Hildrun Sunseth along with the lone male model, Charles Beaman.

Owls shoot to continue loop command

Foothill hosts Menlo five tonight semester finale

Coach Chuck Crampton will send his Foothill College Owls up against a much improved Menlo College quintet tonight when the first place Owls host Jack Rowley's Oaks at 8 o'clock in the Foothill pavilion.

Foothill sports wins over Diablo Valley (48-47) and Monterey (56-54) in overtime, while Menlo has only one Coast Conference outing in which they trimmed Hartnell 65-42.

CRAMPTON IS slated to send Tony Perusa and Jack Gleason at the guard spots, Gary Chiotti and Ray Hamm at the forwards and Jerry Hart at center.

Rowley of Menlo will rely on classy guard Kent Hinckley to provide Menlo with the majority of the scoring talent.

Tonight's Menlo-Foothill tilt will conclude basketball play for the fall semester. Foothill returns to action on Jan. 30 when they play host to the Coast Conference tournament champion San Jose City College Jaguars.

WHILE SOME colleges will lose players at the semester break due to grades and transfers, San Jose will pick up three talented players and Monterey adds an all-Army cager to its roster. Two of the newcomers have the same last name but come from different colleges. Clarence White is a 6'6½" center from San Jose, while Charlie White will play forward for the Monterey Peninsula College Lobos.

OUTNUMBERED—Jack Gleason (12) of Foothill is outnumbered by San Jose City College's Jerry Smith (24), Terry Dailey (30) and Eddie Sims (21) in a fight for the rebound. San Jose edged Foothill in finals of the Coast Conference Holiday Basketball Tournament in the Owl's gym, 75-72. (Courtesy of Press Photo Bureau)

Owl quintet trims MPC, Diablo Valley as Coast Conference season opens

By ED SMITH

Playing without the services of scoring leader Sam Bradley, Foothill College's spunky basketball team slipped and stumbled its way to a 56-54 overtime win over Monterey Peninsula College Friday at Monterey High School.

Coach Crampton's Owl quintet chalked up its second win in Coast Conference play for as many outings to up its season record to 13-5.

THE OWLS blew a 24-16 halftime lead when Monterey's Jerry Hayes and Russ Wise went on a scoring rampage. Wise tanked a layup with 43 seconds to go in regulation play that knotted the score at 47-47 and sent the game into overtime.

Four last minute free throws on the part of Ken Schramm and Gary Chiotti's 15 foot set shot and a pair of charity tosses pulled the Owl five back into the driver's seat.

Chiotti topped the Owls in the scoring department with 24 markers, while Jack Gleason followed with 13 points.

WISE AND Hayes who had sparked Monterey in its comeback drive, copped high scoring laurels with 16 and 10 points, respectively.

Earlier last week the Owls trimmed Diablo Valley 48-47 on their home court in the Coast Conference opener only to drop a 78-73 overtime non-league contest to Oakland City College in the Thunderbird's Merritt gym the following night.

HIT and RUN

With this issue, the Sentinel 'sporting white' will sign off for the semester. I'm sure previous sport editors have recap-ped past events, and I won't be any different, I'll also recap.

The football season went from one extreme to the other. It had climaxes that sometimes must have led fans to believe the Owls were Rose Bowl bound, the highest occurring in beating Hartnell 21-20. There also were sad disappointments, none lower than the upset win by arch-rival San Jose 7-6.

ALL IN all, however, even with the eventual forfeit of four of our wins on an eligibility technicality, it was an exciting season and gave football fans plenty to root, hoot, and talk about.

Some of our ex-gridders who will continue playing for four year schools will be capt. J. Escobar and M. Lowry, probably at UOP; F. Aquino, J. Primes, B. Lacheppelle, and B. Sesich at Santa Barbara, and M. Nichols has been approached by W. Texas State.

Hopes for a cage title this season was handed a serious blow in the form of S. Bradley's injured ankle. Coach Crampton said, "with his loss, we lose 1/3 of our rebounding and 1/4 of our shooting effectiveness." However, if all goes well in the healing dept., Bradley could be back in action as early as the first part of Feb., with half the league schedule yet to be played.

THE OWLS can still turn the trick without Sam. This season's race will not be like last year when SJ made a runaway of it. DV and Vallejo, along with Menlo are going to be SJ's hardest foes, and the loop titlist could have as many as four losses.

Crampton has said, "Our defense had always been tough, and our offense is just beginning to jell."

Holiday sports briefs

Foothill College's basketball team had a very fruitful holiday in regards to winning ball games.

Coach Chuck Crampton's Owl quintet won five and lost only two in copping second place in the Coast Conference tournament on their home court and third place in the Allan Hancock holiday affair in Santa Maria.

A TALENT-PACKED San Jose City College team edged Foothill in the finals of the Coast Conference tourney, 75-72. However, Foothill marched back from an 18 point deficit and only the clock kept them from a would-be victory.

Sam Bradley was named to the all-tourney team, but one week later the freshman sensation was announced out for the season with what Crampton had termed a "severe sprain" to his left ankle.

Following a 71-61 non-league win over Marin, the Owls packed bag and baggage and off they went to Santa Maria.
