Four girls receive caps in ceremony

The first Dental Capping ceremony at Foothill will take place tonight at 8 in the Appreciation Hall.

Four girls will receive their caps. They are the Misses Patricia Brennan, Catheryn Philipp, Sally Shapker and Barbara Thurston.

Mrs. Aleene Tumelty, dental assisting instructor, will conduct the ceremony.

Girls receive their caps on completion of three semesters' study and work in dental assisting with actual work in offices and clinics for the final semester.

Parents of dental assisting students, dentists and dental assistants of both Santa Clara County and Mid-Peninsula Dental Societies have been invited to the program.

Foothill will host library convention; current problems to headline talks

"Public Pressures on Our Libraries" will be the topic of the Golden Gate District California Library Association conference, which is at Foothill College on March 24.

Dr. Irving Howe, English professor at Stanford University, will speak during the morning session. Author of several critical reviews on Sherwood Anderson and William Faulkner, Howe co-wrote "The American Communist Party, 1919-1957."

During the first of two afternoon discussions, a panel of library trustees will consider "Pressures of Population." Robert Regsdale, Solano County librarian, will preside over topics ranging from improving services, to the pros and cons of State financial aid.

Among the panelists investigating the second subject, "Meeting Pressures of Censorship," is author-businessman Ralph Moody. Margaret Thompson, Monterey Peninsula College librarian, will be the moderator.

Within the 14 central California counties, the California Library Association membership includes public school, college, university, and special librarians.

Magazines to feature Foothill in near future

Foothill College will be featured in a forthcoming article in "Time" magazine.

Representatives of the magazine were on campus this week to take pictures and interview Dr. Calvin C. Flint, Dr. Hugh Semans and division chairmen.

According to Ervin L. Harlacher, director of Community services at Foothill, subject of the article will be the role of junior colleges in higher education.

Harlacher said there was also a possibility that "Life" magazine will feature Foothill in a pictorial of the campus.

Foothill has previously been featured in other national magazines, including "Architectural Forum," "Pictorial Living," "American School Board Journal," "Architectural Record," "Mademoiselle," "Building Products," "Monsanto Magazine" and "Pacific Builder."

Youth Symphony will present ballet

Foothill's auditorium will be the site of the premier showing of "The Enchanted Birthday," a ballet by Joseph Bayer to be performed here March 31 at 8 p.m. and April 1 at 3 p.m. by the Foothill Youth Symphony and the Opaterny Ballet Company.

The ballet is a fantasy of a young girl's dreams of a birthday party given for her by Raggedy Ann and Andy. Her gifts come to life and dance as she dreams.

Tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50c for students and children. They may be obtained at the door. Further information may be obtained by calling DA 2-9401 or RE 9-1308.

YRs Pass Resolve

The following resolution was passed by the Young Republican Club at the general meeting March 20:

"Whereas, the principle aim and objective of the Foothill College Young Republicans is to aid in the election of Republican candidates to public office, and

Whereas, no other club on the Foothill College campus has a similar principle aim or objective;

Therefore be it resolved that the Foothill College Young Republicans do not support or recommend any speaker on campus unless said speaker is sponsored by the Young Republicans."

Dr. Zarro at FC April 5

Dr. Zarro, a hypnotist, will entertain Foothill students in an hour long show on April 5.

Sponsored by the Vet's Club, the show will be presented in the auditorium during the College Hour for 50c.

Dr. Zarro will employ "mass hypnosis," asking for approximately 50 volunteers from the audience.

Composer to lecture at Foothill April 7

David Shein, composer and conductor, will give a lecture on the program to be presented by the San Francisco Symphony on April 7. The lecture is set for noon, Mar. 26 in the Foothill Auditorium.

The symphony preview is presented by the Palo Alto unit of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc. as a community service. It is open to the public without charge.

A luncheon at 1:00 in the campus center will follow the lecture. Reservations for the luncheon are $2.00 and can be made by calling WH 8-1962 or DA 2-1907. No reservations or cancellations will be accepted after March 22.

'I Led Three Lives' author at FC

Philbrick to speak on Cybernetic Warfare

Herbert Philbrick, the man who led three lives, will speak on the subject 'Cybernetic Warfare,' in the Foothill Auditorium March 30 at 8 p. m.

Philbrick for nine years was a Boston ad executive, a top-ranked Communist official and a counterspy on behalf of the F.B.I.—all at the same time.

Philbrick has written two books about his experiences, "I Led Three Lives," and "The Queer Fish."

HIS FIRST BOOK, "I Led Three Lives," was an overnight best seller and was serialized in over a hundred newspapers throughout the country.

Philbrick also collaborated closely in the writing, editing and production of the T.V. series named "I Led Three Lives," starring Richard Carlson in the title role.

Philbrick began his triple life in 1940 as a fledging executive in a Boston firm, a newly married man active in the community affairs of the suburb in which he lived.

In that year he became aware that a group to which he belonged had been infiltrated by the Communists. Philbrick took this information to the F.B.I. It was at their suggestion that he remained in the organization and reported to them on Communist activities.

PHILBRICK JOINED the Young Communist League in 1942 and in 1944 was asked to join the party proper. He accepted, and by 1949 was a member of the secret "Pro-4" group which directed communist activities in the New England area.

In 1949 Philbrick gave testimony on behalf of the Justice Department against 11 top U.S. Communists who were tried in New York before Federal Judge Harold R. Medina on the charge of violating the Smith Act.

After the trial, which lasted nine months, all 11 were convicted and received sentences of from three to five years in prison.

AFTER THE TRIAL Philbrick and his wife, Eva received threatening letters and were placed under the protection of the F.B.I. for many months.

The Philbricks now live in New Hampshire with their five daughters.

Cybernetics is the science which deals with control and communication in animals and machines complicated enough to record, collate and act on information independent of outside control. This is accomplished in machines through a feedback process, in which recorded fact continually controls and adjusts action.

'Night at Opera' presentation Sat.

"A Night at the Opera," will be presented by the San Jose Opera Association tomorrow evening at 8:30 in the college auditorium.

According to Dr. Fred Coradetti, general director for the San Jose Opera Association, the concert will span a wide range of opera emotion with samplings from such favorites as the tragic "Madame Butterfly" and the gay comic opera, "Der Fledermaus."

"A Night at the Opera" will open on a somber note with the prologue from Leoncavallo's "Pagliaccio."

Among other selections from "Pagliacci" will be the Meddantonio duet from the first act, the famous "Ballatella" which is considered one of the best known sopranos, according to Dr. Coradetti.

Supporting the 14 members as will be a full chorus and a 37 piece orchestra under the direction of Dr. Coradetti.

Tickets for the performance are $3, $4 and $5. For reservations call CYpress 5-3310.

New manager named

Jim Jones, manager of the Student Center, named Jim Glynn as the new night manager of the book store.

Glynn was sophomore class president in 1960, commissioner of activities in 1961, on the advertising staff of the Foothill Sentinel last spring and Quasi last semester. He also worked in the bookstore part-time while attending FC, working towards an A.A. degree.

Roads may change

Here we stand on the most beautiful junior college campus in the United States, but the roads to this "dream institution" resemble that of a used washboard.

However, we may see a vast change in the El Monte Avenue problem very shortly.

The California Division of Highways, the cities of Los Altos and Los Altos Hills, Santa Clara County and other agencies have been negotiating for a long time in an attempt to get the project started.

According to William Cutler, administrative assistant at Foothill College, only the city of Los Altos Hills has failed to agree on the terms that would start the ball rolling for the Junipera Serra freeway and a four lane El Monte Avenue.

The main reason why Los Altos Hills has failed to agree is its lack of money. However, Santa Clara County, in its budget for next year, has allotted money for the specific purpose of improving roads in the county. Once the budget is passed, Los Altos Hills will receive in the neighborhood of $67,000.

When the Foothill College District Trustees chose the Los Altos Hills site for its new campus, it was with the idea that El Monte Avenue would be improved and that Foothill would share in the expense.

Foothill's budget for next year includes an amount that will take care of the construction of the entrance to the college from the freeway.

The main worry at this time is whether Los Altos Hills will give its okay to the start of construction before May 1. May 1 is the deadline for the approval of commencement of construction or the money budgeted will go for other improvements in the county.

"We feel confident enough about it," stated Cutler.

So, all there is now for those concerned is to wait until the non-expressway city of Los Altos, the community which has the honor of calling itself the home of Foothill College, to make up its mind.

Janet Jones describes Germany; continuation of last week's excerpts

Last week the Sentinel printed excerpts from letters written by Miss Janet Jones describing Berlin. Following are excerpts describing Heidelberg and Zurich:

"Heidelberg claims Germany's oldest university, founded in 1386. There are some 7,000 students here.

There is an old castle up on the hillside. I saw it last night when it was all floodlit—a beautiful sight.

I WAS walking along the river at dusk. There are all sorts of narrow, cobblestoned streets leading up from the river.

AFTER BEING over here long enough to get used to things, I begin to take too much for granted. Like the horses pulling wagon loads of beer barrels and wine barrels.

And the funeral procession I saw along the Italian countryside—a coffin, laden with flowers, on a wagon pulled by a horse, followed by a crowd of mourners — all proceeding on foot down a highway.

Zurich (Switzerland) was a lovely sight when I left. There had been a snow storm, and the rooftops and mountains beyond were all glistening white.

ZURICH IS more like American cities than any place else I've been. There are an amazing number of American cars here. Especially when one considers that it's not Americans who own the cars.

TWIST 'N FREEZE—Faculty member Walter Maus took time out from the tedious tasks of assigning home work and tests and correcting papers to make his social bow at last Friday night's All-Club social. Though at first he had trouble "catching on," Maus reportedly passed the test after learning the twist. Here he's showing finesse with a Foothill co-ed. (Photo by Norman Starratt)

By JERRY MILLER

This paper has heard rumors that students from Stanford, Cal., San Jose State and San Francisco State planned to camp out on our campus last Wednesday night to be able to get good seats for the speeches yesterday.

Since press time came before the scheduled appearances of Burton Wolfe and Robert Welch, I can only hope that if these visitors to our campus did appear, that Foothill students acted democratically in exercising a true Democracy in having opposing views aired.

Now, I'll discuss things that I know about for sure.

The Inter-Club Social that was held last Friday night, appeared to be a great success. Even though it was planned as a club function, it turned out to be the efforts of a few individuals. They should be commended!

The students that attended, all seemed to have a good time. One of the highlights of the evening came when Miss Demetri Georgas and Walter Maus were both asked to do a command performance of the twist. They didn't know how to do it according to them, but after a few minutes of lessons, both appeared to be doing real well. (See photo above.)

One item that did bother me a little bit was the fact that a few of the people in attendance decided that the table needed some additional color. The table was marked up with different colors of marking pencils. When I saw that I thought perhaps someone had brought their children to avoid paying for a baby sitter, and then let them amuse themselves with the pens on the table. This might be watched in future social that are planned.

KFJC returns to air following layoff

Foothill College's FM radio station, KFJC, returned to the air last week following a lengthy layoff due to transmitter and antenna troubles.

KFJC will broadcast Monday through Friday from 6:30-10:15 p.m. on 89.7 megs. According to station manager John Burt, as a result of the station's new antenna, KFJC's power output is expected to reach 30 watts. This, stated Burt, should increase and improve the audio signal significantly.

Commencing each broadcast day is a program entitled "Music Appreciation." This program is in connection with the music department of Foothill and those students taking music appreciation courses.

Fred Critchfield, broadcasting advisor, announced at a general staff meeting late last week that KFJC has joined the National Association of Education Broadcasters (NAEB). Membership in the NAEB will enable KFJC to receive approximately 10 hours of programming from colleges and universities.

Political speeches added to FC agenda

Two more political speeches have been added to the Foothill agenda.

Howard Jarvis, Republican candidate for U.S. Senate and president of the Los Angeles County Republican Assembly, will speak March 27 at 11 a.m. in the FC auditorium. He is sponsored by Foothill Conservatives.

John H. Bunzel, Stanford political science professor, will speak March 29, same time, same place, on "The John Birch Mentality — Welch-ing on Democracy."

Lizards, snakes and birdies, too

By VIC MASTERSON

Lizards and snakes and birdies too, all can be found at Foothill's zoo. Yes, that's right. The Owl has some playmates.

In the most strict interpretation, this collection of animals can't be called a zoo because it is not ready for the public eye.

It can't be called a menagerie because all of the animals aren't wild.

Therefore, it is a collection. This collection will soon be a zoo, thanks to the hard work of Mrs. Mary McLanathan, chairman of the biology and health division, and some of her hard working students.

TWO OF the favorite pets are Alvin, a member of the Sciurus genus, and Cosmos, who is a Mephitis if I ever saw one.

Republicans hear Joseph Shell talk

Foothill's Young Republicans journeyed to Sacramento to view government in action last week.

Twenty-nine students and club advisor William Wagner, political science instructor, made the trip by bus.

IN THE assembly the group heard talks by Assemblymen Joseph C. Shell (R-Los Angeles), gubernatorial candidate, and Clark Bradley (R-San Jose).

The students also listened in on proceedings of the ways and means committee and toured the governor's office.

Y. R. President Jim D'Amico said, "I think it was a very beneficial trip. Everybody learned something about the involvement of human beings in government."

These two are tame and from what I saw of Alvin, he is really a hand shaker, especially if the hand is holding food. Curious? Alvin is a gray squirrel. Cosmos is de-odorized, which is the best possible condition for a skunk to be, when in captivity.

In every story, there must be the love element. Congratulations are in store for Mr. and Mrs. Ring-Necked Dove, who after four attempts finally had a little Ring-Neck. What else would they have?

The Dove's first egg was not fertile. The second hatched, but the little one fell from its nest and passed on to Birdland. The third egg was not fertile, but the fourth egg was a success! Congratulations, you love birds.

Other animals in the collection include salamanders; a lizard; a horned toad; garter, gopher and king snakes; white rats and hamsters.

Birth Control topic scheduled for Student-Faculty Retreat at Asilomar

Various facets of the world population explosion will be discussed at next weekend's Student-Faculty Retreat, "Birth Control," scheduled for Friday afternoon and Saturday at Asilomar.

Fourteen Foothill students will participate in the discussion, second of three spring semester retreats.

AREAS OF discussion will be religious viewpoints, religious problems, problems of feeding the rising numbers, socio-economic problems and what the countries with rising populations are doing about the problems.

Students attending the session are Ann Atkinson, Janet Greene, Joanne Grimes, Anne Lerner, Pat Reed, Sharon Ruhlning, Sandra Thorlaksson, Barbara Young, Tom Brandewein, Michel Marculescu, Bob Nesbit, Jerry Swenson, Tom Stepovich and Rex Owens.

Faculty members Robert Allen, Miss Portia Frederick and Malcolm Maxwell will lead the discussions.

PREPARATIONS FOR discussion by the students was through assigned periodical reading dealing with the topic.

Look Magazine's recent article, "The Problem We Fear to Face," will be the basis for discussion.

Last retreat of the year is scheduled for Jones Gulch May 4-5. Topic for this discussion is "Discrimination."

Foothill tracksters monopolize relay meet

HERE HE COMES—Russ Pierce (far left) of Foothill College edges past Monterey Peninsula College's Jim Dotson in the final few yards to win the 880 yard relay. Foothill won seven of the 11 events in Saturday's Coast Conference relays here setting records in each.

Having classed itself as one of the better teams to cavort in Coast Conference track and field competition during recent years, Foothill College's track squad moves into Salinas tomorrow afternoon to begin their 1962 dual-meet season.

Vallejo, Monterey and host Hartnell College provide the opposition for Verne Wolfe's striders beginning at 1:00 p.m.

THREATENING SKIES didn't keep the Owl tracksters from literally running away with the Coast Conference Relays, Saturday, outscoring six other league schools with 69 points.

San Jose, with 40, was runner-up. Diablo Valley tallied 27, Monterey 26, Hartnell 18, Vallejo 17 and Menlo 5.

Foothill claimed seven of nine new meet records, winning the first four track events.

JACK PARSON, Bert Stringer, Al Chapman and Charles Oakley were members of the record-setting Two-Mile Relay (7:45.6) and Distance Medley (10:25.2) teams. Chapman and Parson ran on the record-setting mile relay 3:26.2).

Bill Strang, Tom McDougal, Bob Owen and Ray Hamm were on the winning hurdle relay team (1:00.5). Strang ran on the winning Mile and 880-yard Relay teams. Don Wilson, Trent Allison and Russ Pierce were the other 880 team members.

The Owl pole vault team of Gerald Lawrence (12-6), McDougal (13-0) and Dan Washer (13-6) set a meet mark of 39-0.

HAMM, WASHER and Clay Anderson also teamed to set a new 17-7 meet high jump standard and the Foothill shotput and discus teams finished fourth and third respectively.

BATON PASS—Al Chapman takes the baton from Charles Oakley during distance medley event of the Coast Conference Relays at Foothill. Foothill won the event, team honors in the meet and set records in every victory.

Foothill-MPC swim meet postponed

A scheduled Coast Conference swimming meet with Monterey Peninsula College and a golf match with Cabrillo College were postponed last weekend, Foothill athletic department officials reported.

The swim meet with MPC has been rescheduled for today or Saturday. As of yet, a date for the golf match has not been decided.

facker and righty Waymon Crowder as possible choices for mound assignments for Foothill. Hoffacker won seven and lost none in 1961, while Crowder garnered six victories.

Coach Bob Pifferini's crew will enter tomorrow's twin bill with an 8-3-1 pre-season record. Foothill dropped a 10-6 decision to College of San Mateo last Tuesday, before bouncing back to best the Santa Clara University frosh 8-4.

"They're the team to beat," Diablo Valley coach Hugh Boschetti stated this week in reference to Foothill's chances of repeating for a first place in the 1962 campaign.

Dennis Carter, second team all-league last year and a left-hander, and Ron Beardslee are scheduled to hurl for the Vikings.

CABRILLO COLLEGE has already got the jump on the rest of the league winning two games from Menlo College last week.
