

MC board pushes for KFJC power increase next year to 1,000 watts

Foothill's communications board will recommend to the board of trustees that KFJC increase its power up to 1,000 watts from the present 10 next year.

At the same time, John Blich, student station manager, disclosed the station's broadcast time will be increased next year from five to seven hours. The station now broadcasts two hours daily.

HE ALSO SAID an investigation is now under way looking into the possibility of locating the transmission tower behind the new campus for greater broadcast power.

Action to recommend the wattage increase came last Wednesday at the Board of Communications meeting.

However the communications board made no decision as to where the tower will be located. Fred C. Critchfield, KFJC faculty advisor, told the board that FM broadcasting differed from AM in that FM employed a "line of sight" method. He said FM beams go straight out from the tower in a horizontal line and a power increase still would not reach areas two miles away because they would be in the "shadow" of a mountain.

However he stated a power increase of only 50 watts and a higher location of the tower would increase the radius of the station because the tower would be above most obstacles.

HOWEVER, DEAN OF students Arla L. DeHart said he would like to see a power increase to 1,000 watts and place the tower on the new campus.

Critchfield said a tower on campus would "ruin the ascetic value" of the El Monte site.

He cited FCC reports, and the Foothill engineering department that KFJC would reach a larger area with less wattage on a hill top and the cost would be cheaper.

HE SAID THE cost would be $3,000 to $7,000 on campus while the leasing of a line to the off campus site would be in the neighborhood of $500 a year.

Critchfield said Dr. John W. Sherman of the electronics department has been running a series of tests which "bear out the fact" that an off campus location would be cheaper.

ONE OF TWO—James A. Barnett, attorney from Mississippi, spoke before more than 100 students Tuesday on segregation. Next week, Wester Sweet, San Jose attorney, will speak for integration.

'One-sided movie'

SRO audience views HUAC film

By Pat Mundell

All seats were taken, the wall was lined with people, and even more were trying to get in to see the propaganda movie "Operation Abolition" last Friday in room 112.

They were a tense, talkative crowd who came to see a movie they had heard much about. And they were disappointed, as many of them said afterward, because "I still haven't seen Communism in action," as the film claims to show.

DR. IRVIN ROTH, social science chairman who introduced the film, said it could be compared to a "TV advertisement" as far as truth is concerned. As an analogy, he said that the foam in beer advertisements is sometimes soapsuds.

Roth then mentioned the main objections to the film: distorted chronology, omission of pertinent data, and emotional narration; but he also said that the makers of the film intended it as a means of bringing the communist danger to the attention of the public.

AFTERWARDS, THE STUDENTS grouped in the halls for informal discussions. One student said it was a "one-sided movie," while another said it was "bunk"—"The process of getting the film (subpoenaed from two TV stations by the House Un-American Activities Committee and then given to a private company) for the private concern was wrong," according to one student.

Still another said it was "a revival of McCarthyism, too many people are hurt by this type of thing."

Warren dismissal object of petition of appreciation by Foothill students

A petition of "appreciation" which is expected to draw 500 student signatures by the group who wrote it, is circulating on campus this week in defense of Dr. Fred Warren, Foothill music department chairman whose resignation has been requested by the board of trustees.

PETER JOHNSON, ONE of the students who initiated the petition said, "As a matter of principle, our purpose is not to extend protection solely to any single teacher, but to question whether it is judicious and fair to those teachers on tenure to summarily ask for their resignations without duly informing them of cause, and that this information be released at the discretion of the teachers involved."

In a press conference with Sentinel reporters, Dr. Calvin C. Flint, Foothill president said the disclosure of reasons to anyone but the instructor why he is dismissed is in violation of professional ethics, and he added, "We have no choice." The president explained, teachers who are dismissed may take their questions on two levels to have them answered—the College Professional Relations Committee and the California Teacher's Association.

FLINT ASSURED THE student group every effort was being extended to teachers to help them locate employment where they may be "better suited." He said because a teacher is dismissed doesn't mean he or she is a "bad" teacher but that they might fit in better in another college.

Soph class staging car wash, parking

The Sophomore Class is planning a car wash on May 5. The wash will be organized by the Sophomore Council, and the purpose, according to Chuck Hogate, president, is to "make the sophomores more aware of their class government, unify class action, and increase the effectiveness of class government."

Parking spaces on the campus will be reserved for those students who bring their cars in to be washed.

"Not only will they get a car wash, but they will also get a parking space near the school," Hogate said.

'Paper Curtain' of misinformation factor in nation's integration problem

By Jack Mullen

"We do not hate the Negro" as the rest of the nation thinks and as certain communication media present. The white and Negro are working side by side to make Mississippi the proud and powerful state it once was."

THIS IS THE view James A. Barnett, attorney and cousin to the governor of Mississippi, took in addressing the problem of integration in the South at Tuesday's social science talk on "Integration."

Looking at the post civil war period, Barnett said, "with no preparation, 4,000,000 slaves were freed. These Negroes were given the privilege to vote, to hold office, to take part. It was unfortunate, for they were not ready to govern themselves."

Also the Reconstruction erected, said Barnett, a "Paper Curtain" in which the North was fed malignant, false information about the South.

He said that this "Paper Curtain" exists today.

HE SAID, "IT hurts to read

'Creative Process' selected topic for final student retreat

"The Creative Process" will be the topic of the final student-faculty retreat at Foothill this year on April 21-22.

According to Kenneth Orrett, Foothill art instructor, the purpose of the retreat is to examine all forms of creativity in such a way as to stimulate interest in the students for further research on this topic.

"WE WILL TRY to determine what creativity is, generally and specifically, as seen by several disciplines," Orrett said.

Speaking for the other faculty members attending this retreat, Dr. Patricia Popp, Mrs. Mary Mains, and Dr. Fred Warren, Orrett stated, "We hope it to be a lively exploration of the theme, made more meaningful by the fact that this is an intimate group. We also hope the students and ourselves will gain a broader awareness of themselves in relation to creative living."

slanted articles." He charged that one weekly news magazine had all its reporters' copy rewritten by the editors to slant the news and that TV has artificially treated the issue of race.

The Negro, he said, is an American problem. He cited a study in San Francisco where a white and Negro couple phoned to rent an apartment. The results showed that the white couple could have rented all the apartments phoned, while the Negro couple, in every case, found that the apartments had been somehow taken.

BARNETT SAID THAT such a situation is "embarrassing" and one that doesn't exist in the South.

He said (in the South) "Segregation is a natural thing, assisted by the Negro, that does not mean the same as discrimination."

In the South there is segregation of such facilities as education, clubs, churches, etc., he said, but there isn't segregation in business.

"We of the South," he said, "have mutual respect for one another."

"SEGREGATION GREW from customs and mores of the people into law. Therefore, force will not change customs, and segregation can't be changed over night."

He said the values of the Negroes should be raised before anything.

In closing, Barnett offered the challenge to "come and see—we got nothing to hide—see if we lie."

Four films featured at April 14 festival

"Bespoke Overcoat," "Odds and Ends," "Cubisme," and "Nanook of the North" will be presented Friday evening, April 14, as the third event in the college film festival.

The main film, "Nanook of the North" by Robert Flaherty, is a sympathetic portrayal of the daily existence of the Eskimo.

"Bespoke Overcoat," British Academy Award winning film of 1956, is directed and produced by Jack Clayton. "Odds and Ends" by Jane Conger won the Creative Film Foundation Award in 1960.

Friday Evening at Foothill will next feature a concert by Adolph Baller, pianist, and Gabor Rejto, cellist on April 21.

OPERATION ABOLITION—Over 100 students attended the Friday showing of the controversial film, "Operation Abolition" sponsored by the Foothill Young Republicans. On the screen is Archie Brown, a known communist, testifying before the HUAC.

KFJC power and responsibility

Word of a power increase and re-location of the KFJC broadcast tower next year is welcome news.

Action to investigate the power increase of the station and the height of the broadcast tower was taken last week by representatives of the administration when Dr. Calvin C. Flint, Foothill president, gave the station management the green light to look for property behind the new El Monte campus.

At the present time, the ten watt station has a radius of 10 miles or a diameter of 20 miles. A power increase of 50 to 1,000 watts and the re-location of the broadcasting tower on top of a mountain, said to be 1,800 feet above sea level will increase the service area to a radius of 25 miles or a diameter of 50 miles.

The power increase still must be approved by the Federal Communications Commission.

The change throws a greater responsibility upon the KFJC staff. They will have to maintain their program quality for a number of reasons.

1. The power increase will bring a larger audience which will be listening and comparing stations. If program quality is poor, even a 100,000 watt station would be wasted money.

2. For many of the listeners, KFJC will be their only contact with Foothill College. Their impression of KFJC will more than likely be their impression of Foothill College.

3. The Federal Communications Commission will have stricter controls and checks on the more powerful station, thus increasing the difficulty of license renewal.

4. Competition for carrier frequencies is increasing. At this moment, another station is attempting to take channel 203, presently assigned to KFJC.

With this in mind, the management of KFJC must be more selective in choosing their staff members and programs.

Station manager, John Blich, is making substantial steps in this direction.

Our congratulations go to our sister medium as we wish them good luck and remind them of the responsibility that goes hand in hand with their new "station" in life.

Personality conflicts are unavoidable in this world, but when a supposedly responsible group lets personalities interfere with decisions affecting the college then this is a deplorable condition.

I THINK EXECUTIVE council should re-evaluate its method of selecting delegates to the CJCSGA state conference.

There are six people on executive council, but only five can go to the convention. Rather than have these six people vote among themselves, the decision as to who goes should be done by an outside and impartial person or group. This could be a job for the dean of students, or perhaps the entire student council.

Judging from the council's selections, this is a "have fun" convention rather than a "work and learn to benefit the college" type.

AHEM, INTEREST IN class government seems to be picking up. I still don't think it is a form of government, but the freshman and sophomore class officers should be commended for the activities and interests to which they are so unselfishly devoting themselves. They are performing a positive service to this school.

Peering over my typewriter I will predict that they will not only save the rowboat before it sinks, but add a motor to boot.

The showing of "Operation Abolition" last Friday, brought to light an interesting trait of collegians today. That is, the tendency to go to extremes.

ACCORDING TO THE extremists people are either black or white. In their minds, they have forgotten a very important concept. Between black and white lies gray, and it is the grays that comprise the majority of the population.

The Reds call everyone rightists, the rightists say everyone is Red. The Muslims say Negroes are superior and the Ku Klux Klan say the whites are.

The grays however, can point to our constitution. There, civil liberties are guaranteed all citizens regardless of race, color or creed. And then, I seem to recall something about "all men being created equal."

It is the grays to whom we must turn for the preservation of our society, for the way of the extremists is the road to genocide.

Protests tactics

Editor:

Regarding the letter of Mr. Don Hosken on March 24, I should like to clarify any misconceptions derived from my letter of March 17—on my position concerning the House Un-American Activities Committee.

FIRST, I AM not a radical; second, Mr. Hoskens seems to have his "facts" a little mixed up.

I am not against the principles of the HUAC. I protest the tactics of the HUAC in using the film Operation Abolition, through distortion, as a device which gives the impression that many college students are communist dupes.

I am not sure if Mr. Hoskens has seen Operation Abolition since he apparently feels the authorities were correct in restricting and distorting individual freedoms. Is he aware of the fact that the film was subpoenaed from the two television stations which filmed the incident and was then (with time sequences and action scrambled) reassembled by members of the HUAC as a propaganda device?

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE to derive the truth of the event from the film. Students who were present at the "riot" give an entirely different picture of the incident.

To answer Mr. Hoskens' suggestion that Leif Erickson appear before the committee—Erickson is a member of the free and responsible press, trying to objectively sift bias from facts to present a true picture of the problem. He has followed the entire conflict from the onset, has talked with both sides, and has written a series of articles which both factions have declared to be objectively and realistically representative.

IN THESE ARTICLES no opinion appears and you learn Mr. Erickson's views only through personal speeches or conversation.

Mr. Hoskens, in his letter, also cited Mr. J. Edgar Hoover's testimony, regarding the event. There has since been some question concerning the accuracy of his sources. Unfortunately, his testimony was based upon these "questionable" reports.

It is dangerous to deal in either black or white, to be extreme leftist or rightist. A person must get all the facts available and then decide in his own mind who or what is correct or distorted.

JUST AS COMMUNISM is a threat to our system, so is the dangerous McCarthyism now raging in parts of Southern California.

Anyone who abhors communism and its dispicable goals, should realize how equally dangerous to this country are those who take shocking and unbelievable positions. These persons continue an extreme philosophy of objecting to every kind of progress, they point a finger at those who disagree with them, and say—"There walks a Communist."

If there were not inquiring, perhaps critical minds, there would be little improvement—whether in science, society, or our government offices.

Five say injustice!

Editor:

An injustice is being done.

An injustice to all teachers, all students, and to an entire community.

The accused Dr. Fred C. Warren has been instructed to submit his resignation.

Why?

He doesn't know.

We, the students, don't know. Even after careful and deliberate study of the vague and evasive statements of the Foothill College Board of Trustees, titled, "Personnel Policies and Procedures" of March 22, 1961 and April 3, 1961, we still don't know.

We see no reason for his dismissal, but many reasons for his retention.

Dr. Fred C. Warren is first and foremost, an excellent instructor. He has taught his students to listen, to learn, to think. He is a driving force behind such activities as the Honors Program, the retreats, and most of the cultural events at Foothill College.

These contributions by this man have been a major factor in creating our present Foothill

'Not silent for long'

Generation stirs in ideal search

(ACP)—'For years it was proclaimed from every side that this generation of college students just didn't have it—that it was a 'silent,' 'conformist,' 'don't-give-a-damn,' generation. Instead of being 'lost,' the youth of today were misplaced, cautious, reserved, calculating, they seemed to belong already to the middle-aged at heart.

"THIS WAS particularly noticeable at football games, when the new breed tended to look down their noses at the enthusiasm of the old grads; it was out of style to be 'gung-ho' about anything. Varsity athletes were now the subject, not of hero-worship, but of condescending cracks; and the campus rebel was a thing of the past. Nothing mattered much beyond getting a degree and making a lot of money afterwards.

To some, this apathy was most frightening with regard to politics. A poll of Midwestern campuses showed the students bored not only by liberal slogans, but by conservative ideals: they voted down free enterprise and free speech with equal unconcern, thought that foreigners were not to be trusted, and demonstrated indifference toward even the necessity for an honest government.

"THE POVERTY OF idealism seemed epitomized by the 'beatniks,' who stood for negation pure and simple, and who succumbed to commercialization almost at birth.

"Then, last spring, the outraged student of South Korea led the rebellion against the dictatorial rule of Syngman Rhee. There was general amazement in this country. ('You know, my kids don't bother about things like that as long as they get their allowance on time'); this was increased by the similar uprisings in Turkey. The feeling began to spread that perhaps the Communists were behind the world awakening of the young — perhaps because people had forgotten the students who set the example, the ones who threw rocks at tanks on the streets of Budapest four long years ago.

"IN THE PAST few months, there has been a stirring. Students on the West Coast demonstrated against what they considered governmental intolerance; colored students staged sit-ins that rocked the nation. At the other extreme, student organizations demanding a complete repeal of the social progress since the Great Depression were being founded throughout the country.

Among those stirred by neither left—nor right-wing radicalism, there was an enthusiastic response to the appeal of President Kennedy for volunteers for a youth Peace Corps.

"The contented generation has been stirring restlessly, seeking an outlet for an idealism that the long drought had not quenched. The silent generation may soon speak."

Owl thinclads open season; second at SJCC

Hoffacker fires one-hitter; Owl nine takes pair from Monterey

It must really feel wonderful to be riding in first place in the Coast Conference baseball chase.

Well, at least Foothill College's baseballers can go home nights after practice knowing that they play the role of the fox and not the hunters.

BOB PIFFERINI'S SPUNKY nine walloped Monterey Peninsula College, Saturday, for two wins in a league doubleheader at Mountain View's McKelvey Park. Scores in the twin bill were 12-2 and 6-2.

Southpaw Eddie Hoffacker chalked up his sixth win as compared to only one loss. The ex-Palo Alto High fireballer gave up a double to Len Napoli in the first inning, before firing eight and one-third innings of no-hit ball in the Owl's 12-2 win in their nine inning opener.

First sacker Brownie Taylor smacked a two-run homer in the sixth frame to highlight Foothill's 14-hit attack.

HOME RUNS BY Jerry Collins and Gary Chiotti in the first inning paced the Owl horsehid-ers to their 6-2 decision over MPC in the seven inning night-cap.

Wayman Crowder went all the way for the win.

The Owls meet defending champion Menlo College this afternoon on their home ground at McKelvey. Starting time is 3 o'clock.

Score by innings:
 MPC 000 000 002— 2 1 4
 FC 030 203 04x—12 14 3

in a quadrangular meet at San Jose. Crump zipped to a :10.0 flat clocking in the 100-yard dash, while Brown won the 120-yard high hurdles in :15.6 seconds. (photos by Ed Smith)

Foothill second with 44 points; Crump, Brown cop wins; Beal vaults 13-ft.

By Ed Smith, Sports Editor

Foothill College made a fairly impressive debut Saturday, when they kicked-off their 1961 track and field season, but a stronger test is yet to come tomorrow when they battle Hartnell, Vallejo and powerhouse Monterey in a quadrangular test in Salinas.

Foothill placed second last Saturday as host San Jose City College walked off with team honors in a four-way engagement with Vallejo and Menlo. The Jaguars tallied 72 points, followed by Foothill's 44, Vallejo with 32 and Menlo's one point.

SPRINTER RALPH CRUMP and hurdler Bill Brown provided the lone victories for the Owl thinclads, although pole vaulter Don Beal tied for top laurels in his event.

Crump, former Sunnyvale High flash, zipped to a winning 10 seconds flat clocking in the 100-yard dash and then came back to stop the watches in 22 seconds flat in placing second behind Vallejo's Marv Bryant, whose winning time was identical.

Veteran Bill Brown flashed to a win in the 120-yard high hurdles in :15.6 seconds. Brown, who clocked :15.2 seconds over the high barriers last year, also placed third in the low sticks.

DISTANCE RUNNER Len Anderson came in for third spot in the mile and two-mile events clocking 4:50.5 in the four-lap-per.

Palo Altan Don Beal had to settle for a tie in the pole vault as he cleared an even 13-feet to tie with San Jose's Tom Watts.

Foothill's cinder men also came in for laurels in the 440-yard dash with Mike Nichols tying for second in :50.9 seconds, Scott Lewis and Larry Elkington placed second and third in the shotput, Bill Strang, Norm Eliason and Nichols all cleared 6-feet one-inch for second and a tie for third place in the high jump, while Brent Wittges slipped in for a third in the discus.

JERRY CASSINGHAM AND Crump notched a few more points for the Owls in the broad jump with a second and tie for third respectively.

Cabrillo wins

FC natators dumped, 49-44; SJ next

Foothill's swim team closes out regular season play this Saturday when they host arch-rival San Jose City College.

Coast Conference championship competition at Monterey is slated for next Saturday, April 22.

DESPITE A PAIR of wins by Rich Belding and Denis Lose, the Owl natators narrowly missed a win Saturday, as host Cabrillo prevailed 49-44 in the Seahawk's pool.

Belding, All-American for four years at Los Altos High, copped wins in the 50-yard and 100-yard freestyle events with respective clockings of :24.6 and :54.5 seconds.

Lose copped top laurels in diving and the 440-yard freestyle with a winning time of 5:36 flat.

A FOURSOME COMPRISED of Bill Barker, Denis Lose, Gary Gardner and Rich Belding, swam to a victory in the 400-yard freestyle relay with a clocking of 4:03.7.

Cabrillo took the 200-yard medley relay, uncontested, in 5:52.

Tennis, golfers lose; try, try again . . .

Still in search of their first win even though the season is in its final drive to the wire, the Owl's tennis team hosts Monterey tomorrow, while Foothill's golfers trek to San Jose Tuesday to battle the Jaguars.

Menlo handed the Owl netmen a 7-0 loss Friday, while the golfers were being thumped, 13-2, by Monterey on the Lobo's home fairways.

Standout Jim Sherman again paced the losing Owl duffers with a three over-par 75 for the 18-hole course.

Former ASFC President Bill Minney told me the other day that he has made the varsity soccer team at Stanford University.

Minney, who held the office of president during the spring semester of 1960 and the fall semester of 1960, said "I was first string goalie one day and third string the next." Good luck, Willie.

WHILE THE QUADRANGULAR track and field meet was taking place at San Jose City College last Saturday, San Jose was also playing host to a sports day.

Foothill walked off with top honors in the tennis competition.

Valerie Small and Ken Heck defeated a mixed doubles pair in the finals and Tom Fagundes and Jack Porter downed the College of San Mateo in the finals to cop the men's doubles prize.

FOOTHILL'S SOFTBALL team sparked by Sandy Mezger, Phil Hopkins and Sharon Spencer, won their opening round game, 9-3, from San Jose City College, before dropping a 10-5 decision to the combined teams of San Francisco City College and Monterey Peninsula College.

San Francisco walked off with the top laurels in the archery competition, while Foothill failed to place.
