

Features | Page 5

La Voz

THE WEEKLY VOICE OF DE ANZA COLLEGE SINCE 1967

Sports | Page 6

November 26, 2012 | Volume 46, No. 9 | lavozdeanza.com

Armed robbery on Foothill campus; Students, others question on Facebook handling of incident and decision not to lock down

Sally Lee
Staff Writer

A robber armed with a handgun stole black backpacks from two students at Foothill College's footbridge near the Campus Center at around 9 a.m. Nov. 19.

"The person displayed a weapon," said Kurt Hueg, Foothill College associate vice president of external relations, "either held it at the side or showed it in his belt."

Nothing is known of the suspect except that he was described as an African American male, between the ages of 18 to 27, weighing about 160 pounds, with short hair and wearing a dark sweatshirt.

Santa Clara County Sheriff deputies and West Valley College officers were called over for investigation assistance.

However, a lockdown was not called because there were no immediate threats, according to FHDA police. The campus was notified system of the incident through the emergency notification.

HAVE YOU SEEN HIM? - An artist rendering of two alternate descriptions of the armed robber.

"Either students got notified via text or we got notified on our computers, on our work phones, or on our cell phones," said Donna Wolf, administrative assistant for extended opportunity program and services. "So that's really good to know that it's working."

Some instructors in classes close to the site of the armed robbery, including Kerry Dileonardo, Foothill dance instructor, imposed their own lockdowns until the perceived threat of the armed robber settled.

No one was hurt, but some students felt put off by the lack of concern officials presented for student safety and expressed their opinions on social media sites.

Tenya Howland posted onto Facebook, "I'm good, just not going to campus today. So far the updates have been rather odd. If there's an armed robbery on campus, that should mean immediate lockdown + tell students not to come to school. They haven't locked the school down + they're still telling students to come to school. Keep in mind suspect brought a GUN. And they still haven't found him."

Kristen Lohnes Johnson posted, "So please explain why they don't lock down when this happens?"

Chris DiLeonardo, professor of geology and oceanography at De Anza College, posted, "It seemed as though the priority was the image of the college not really safety of students, staff, or faculty."

Hueg said in situations like this, an amazing amount of misinformation starts flying around, "and that's why it's critical for people to pay attention to the actual announcements that come to them. And not what somebody is saying on Facebook."

La Voz collected on storify.com tweets and Facebook posts about the incident. To view the compilation, go to bit.ly/W13qZp.

contact Sally Lee at
lavoz@fhda.edu

SCENE OF THE CRIME - Two students were robbed at gunpoint on this foot bridge. The suspect was seen running onto campus.

Contractor hired for new Education Center on site of former Onizuka Air Force Station

Janelle Garcia
Staff Writer

On Nov. 7 construction firm C.W. Driver was named by the Foothill-De Anza district as the contractor for the new education center on the site of the former Onizuka Air Force Station in Sunnyvale.

C.W. Driver was founded in 1919 by Clarence Wike and John MacDonald.

The builder's clients include Bloomingdale's, American Red Cross, Chapman University, Dream Works, Universal Studios, Sony, Whole Foods, Knott's Berry Farm, and Kaiser Permanente.

C.W Driver has also won awards such as the 2010 Coalition for Adequate School Housing and The American Institute of Architects California Council.

"In selecting the contractor for this very important project, the district followed our see DRIVER pg 3

FUTURE OF EDUCATION - A digital rendering of the new Education Center being built by C.W. Driver at the former Onizuka Air Force base.

photo from www.CWDriver.com

Campus Events

Vietnam 2013 summer trip and documentary "Occupation 101" ... p. 2

News

DASB meeting and Veterans fight for jobs ... p. 3

Features

Youth Voices United for change...p.4
Students get down at Mystic Dance... p. 5

Sports

Tips for a healthy immune system and women's basketball ... p. 6

Opinions

Scholarship money slips away and letter to the editor ... p. 7

Campus Events | 2

November 26, 2012

lavozdeanza.com

TUESDAY, NOV. 27

LEARN ABOUT ANXIETY

11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.
Hinson Campus Center,
El Clemente Room
This workshop is educational and not intended to provide diagnosis or treatment. For more information contact Mary Sullivan and sullivanmary@deanza.edu

CSU APPLICATION WORKSHOP

12:30 p.m. to 2 p.m.
Conference Room 202,
Student & Community Services Bldg., 2nd Floor
General guidelines on how to submit the fall 2013 California State University online application for admission. Admission to the workshop is free. For more information visit www.deanza.edu/transfercenter/workshops.html

UC APPLICATION WORKSHOP

4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m.
Conference Room 202,
Student & Community Services Bldg., 2nd Floor
General guidelines on how to submit the fall 2013 University of California online application for admission. Admission to the workshop is free. For more information visit www.deanza.edu/transfercenter/workshops.html

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 28

"OCCUPATION 101": DOCUMENTARY FILM SHOWING

3 p.m. to 6 p.m.
Hinson Campus Center,
Conference Room B
Students for Justice and the Muslim Student Assoc. present the movie screening and discussion of "Occupation 101" a documentary film about the current and historical root causes of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and U.S. government involvement. Food and drinks will be provided, and admission is free. For more information contact the Muslim Students Association Club at deanzamsa@gmail.com

CUBAN AT HEART: A PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBITION

Monday through Friday 7:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.; Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
KCI Gallery (Building 4000; Lower Level) at Foothill College
Foothill College presents Cuban at Heart: A Photographic Exhibition, which captures the magnetic pull of the Cuban people, as photographed by 16 Foothill College photography students and their instructor. Exhibit will be open from Nov. 28 through Jan. 16. An opening reception will be held Thursday, Nov. 29, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the gallery. Admission to the gallery and reception is free to the general public. Parking is $3. For more information, view the exhibit blog at <http://cubanheart.wordpress.com> or contact Ron Herman at 650-949-7082 or HermanRon@foothill.edu

TUESDAY, NOV. 27

FOOTHILL CRAFTERS FAIR

Noon to 5 p.m.
Foothill College, Hearthside Lounge
Foothill employees and other vendors will present a craft fair featuring handmade gift and holiday items. Admission to shoppers is free. Proceeds from vendor fees will go toward the Bike Path Fund at Foothill College. For more information contact Brenda Visas at 650-949-7033 or DavisVisasBrenda@foothill.edu

FRIDAY, NOV. 30

MEDIA AND LEARNING CENTER BUILDING OPENING CELEBRATION

1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.
Celebrate the opening of the new Media and Learning Center. Learn about its state-of-the-art technology and classrooms, LEED Platinum rating and unique sustainability features. Tours will be held and refreshments will be provided. Free parking in the Flint Center Parking Garage will be available during the event time. To RSVP or get more information, contact the President's Office at 408-864-8705 or president@deanza.edu

DE ANZA CHAMBER ORCHESTRA

7 p.m.
Visual and Performing Arts Center, Auditorium
Sponsored by the Creative Arts Division, Music Department. Admission is $5 for students and seniors, and $10 for the general public. For more information contact Loren Tayerle at tayerleloren@fhda.edu

SATURDAY, DEC. 1

DE ANZA FLEA MARKET

8 a.m. to 4 p.m.
Campus Parking Lots A and B
The Flea Market is held on the first Saturday of every month (rain, shine or holidays) in Campus Parking Lots A and B. For more information go to <http://www.deanza.edu/fleamarket/>

FUJITSU PLANETARIUM ASTRONOMY AND LASER SHOWS

5 p.m. to 11 p.m.
Fujitsu Planetarium
Admission for astronomy shows is $7; laser shows $9. For more information go to <http://www.deanza.edu/planetarium/>

WORLD AIDS DAY AND HEALTH TRUST'S SILICON VALLEY HIKE AND BIKE

Bike Ride 9 a.m., Walk 10 a.m.
Locatelli Student Activity Center, Santa Clara University Campus.
The United Nation's World AIDS Day is an occasion to honor those who have died of AIDS and those who live with HIV or AIDS and to increase awareness of these conditions. To show support for people with AIDS or HIV, participate in The Health Trust Hike & Bike, the inaugural World AIDS Day event for the Silicon Valley. There is a 2-mile walk and 11-mile or 32-mile bike ride. This event will raise HIV/AIDS awareness and funds for services in the Santa Clara County. The registration fee is $25 for walkers, $50 for bikers, and $35 for student bikers. The event organizers urge registered participants to raise funds beyond their registration fee. Register at www.svhikeandbike.org

TUESDAY, DEC. 4

LEARN ABOUT DEPRESSION

11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.
Hinson Campus Center, El Clemente Room
This workshop is educational and not intended to provide diagnosis or treatment. For more information contact Mary Sullivan at sullivanmary@deanza.edu

VIETNAM SUMMER STUDY ABROAD INFORMATION MEETING

Noon to 1:30 p.m.
LIB 235
An information meeting for the 2013 Summer Study Abroad trip to Vietnam. The summer trip will include classes for EWRT, ELIT, and a SOC. Five class. Financial Aid and Scholarships are available. For more information contact Karen Chow at 408-864-5763, chowkaren@fhda.edu, or swenssonjohn@fhda.edu

FOOTHILL ON-CAMPUS HOLIDAY POTTERY SALE

10 a.m. to 3 p.m.
Foothill Cesar Chavez Plaza
Foothill's Ceramics Department and Claydies Club present the annual Student Holiday Potter Sale from Dec. 4 to Dec. 6. Students will sell handmade ceramic functional ware and sculpture that they have created in Foothill classes. Items for sale include bowls, vases, hand-built figures and more. Cash, checks or money orders will be accepted. Purchases cannot be paid for with credit cards. Proceeds from each sale will benefit the college's ceramics department. For more information contact Andy Ruble at 650-949-7584 or at RubleAndy@foothill.edu

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 5

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR DONNA BRADSHAW

4 p.m. to 5 p.m.
Fireside Room, Campus Center
Earlier this month Deaf Services Supervisor Donna Bradshaw passed away. Come to the De Anza Memorial service to pay respects and honor her work at the college. Any written condolences to Donna's brothers, Donald and Dennis Bradshaw can be forwarded to vice president of student services Stacy Cook. For more information contact Marisa Spatafore at spataforemarisa@fhda.edu

DANCE DEMO

7 p.m.
Visual and Performing Arts Center, Auditorium
Admission is free. For more information contact Warren Lucas at lucaswarren@fhda.edu

THURSDAY, DEC. 6

1st THURSDAY - THE OPEN MIC SERIES

5 p.m. to 7 p.m.
Euphrat Museum in the Visual & Performing Arts Center
Join De Anza students, faculty and staff and participate in the fusion of spoken word, poetry, and hip hop. Admission is free. For more information contact the De Anza Black Student Union at deanzabsu@gmail.com

3rd THURSDAY FILM FESTIVAL

6 p.m. to 9 p.m.
Location TBA
An evening of film and dialogue, hosted by the African American Studies Department. The film "Michelle Alexander Presents the New Jim Crow" will be played. This event will be held on the first Thursday for December. For more information contact Julie Lewis at lewisjulie@fhda.edu

THURSDAY, DEC. 7

PIANO RECITAL

10 a.m. to 11 a.m., and 2 p.m. to 3 p.m.
Visual and Performing Arts Center, Auditorium
Support fellow students by attending the end-of-quarter piano recital. Admission is free. For more information contact Anna Poklewski at poklewskianna@fhda.edu

THURSDAY, DEC. 8

FUJITSU PLANETARIUM ASTRONOMY AND LASER SHOWS

5 p.m. to 11 p.m.
Fujitsu Planetarium
Admission for astronomy shows is $7; laser shows $9. For more information go to <http://www.deanza.edu/planetarium/>

SUNDAY, DEC. 9

FALL QUARTER CHORAL CONCERT

3 p.m.
Visual and Performing Arts Center, Auditorium
Attend the Fall Quarter Choral Concert, featuring the Choral and Vintage Singers. Program includes works by Bach, Handel, Hamlisch, and seasonal favorites, both traditional and contemporary. Admission is $5 for students and seniors, $10 for the general public. For more information contact Dr. Ilan Glassman at 408-864-5574, or glasmanilan@fhda.edu

FRIDAY, DEC. 14

LAST DAY TO FILE FOR A FALL DEGREE OR CERTIFICATE

Go to <http://www.deanza.edu/counseling/forms.html> for more information. Visit <http://www.deanza.edu/counseling/> for more information. Don't wait until the last minute!

SATURDAY, DEC. 15

FUJITSU PLANETARIUM ASTRONOMY AND LASER SHOWS

5 p.m. to 11 p.m.
Fujitsu Planetarium
Last night of the fall showings. Admission for astronomy shows is $7; laser shows $9. For more information go to <http://www.deanza.edu/planetarium/>

ANNOUNCEMENTS

ART OF EDUCATION: DE ANZA & FOOTHILL ART AND FACULTY SHOW

Through Dec. 7
10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.
VPA 101
The art show is sponsored by the Euphrat Museum of Art. Exhibits will include work by De Anza and Foothill faculty/staff. Admission is free. For more information contact Diana Argabrite at 408-864-5464.

FALL EXAMS

Tuesday Dec. 11 - Friday Dec. 14
For specific dates and times for your 2012 fall final exams, go to <http://www.deanza.edu/calendar/fallexams.html>
Don't forget to confirm the time with your instructor.

CLASSIFIED EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH PROGRAM

Nominate a Special Staff Professional
As an effort to honor great workers during these hard times of budget cuts and layoffs, please nominate a Staff Professional. Include clear examples of what your nominee does above and beyond regular duties or job description. The more we know, the better we can review your special Staff Professional and make a selection. Please review our website at www.deanza.edu/eom/

October's Employee of the Month:
Melody Cheney
To learn more about her visit www.deanza.edu/eom

De Anza College Dining Services

Menu:
Nov. 26 - Nov. 30

For all of your on-campus dining needs, visit the FOOD COURT in the upper level of the Hinson Campus Center

MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Soup: Minestrone Pizza: Asian Chicken with Scallions & Sesame Dressing Salad: Chinese Chicken Pasta: Beef Stroganoff 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Soup: Beef & Cheddar Pizza: Hamburger Cheddar PANZANELLA SALAD: Smoked Ham, Cherry Tomatoes, Basil, Provolone, Pepperocini, Romaine, Spring Mix with Toasted Torn Sourdough and Balsamic Vinaigrette 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Soup: Beef Vegetable Pizza: Margarita Spring Greens, Fresh Apple, Candied Walnuts, Cranberries, Blue Cheese and Oil & Balsamic Dressing Spaghetti and Meatballs Korma: Beef and Prk Meatballs, Peas, Carrots, Caramelized Onion and Cilantro with SPicy Indian Korma Sauce 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Soup: Tortellini Vegetable Pizza: Sun-dried Tomato, Caramelized Onion & Feta Pasta: Southwestern Chicken Pasta: Broccoli Bow Tie Pasta 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Pizza: Chef's Choice Soup: New England Clam Chowder
Burger of the Week: Meatlovers - Angus Beef, Sun-Dried Tomato Chili Butter, Smoked Gouda, Avocado, Caramelized Onion, Spring Mix, Tomato Whole Wheat

Veterans battle to find jobs as Calif. economy improves

Adriana Barragan
Staff Writer

Even though unemployment rates are slowly decreasing, the number of unemployed veterans is still on the rise.

The California unemployment rate for veterans in 2011 for ages 20-24 was 37.1 percent, which is more than the doubled percentage of unemployed people in the same age group who are not veterans.

"I did not know it was that high," said Sgt. Cory Kingston, a De Anza student.

"I got a job right after serving in Afghanistan as a duct cleaner."

It is not easy for an American to find a job, but it is more difficult for a veteran returning from overseas.

"I am not a veteran, but I do believe every American that has fought for our country should have a guaranteed job when returning," said Amy Satearn a third year nursing student at De Anza.

"I see it as a big slap in the face. As if they are not good enough. It is not justice and it should be changed."

Employers often have a hard time understanding veterans' accomplishments and at times they ask for degrees, but veterans are forced to put military schools, and their application is moved under the pile.

"Depending on where you work or applying to, most places will understand your accomplishments," said Christina Bolanos, a fifth year medical assisting student at De Anza.

It took Bolanos a month to find a job after serving in the army and then was laid off two years later.

"It's difficult when you're in a job interview and they ask you what experience you have and the only experience you have is from years ago," she said.

"It's sad because it is only getting worse. A lot of my friends are still unemployed living in their parents house."

Young veterans many have difficulty adjusting to reality after serving, which is another factor why unemployment is high.

"I suffered from post dramatic stress and when I came back I wanted to go back because the adrenaline was addicting," said Sgt. Kingston.

"I had a lot of family issues and I didn't know what was going on. I always stayed inside because it was my of coping with it"

He was one of few veterans that found a job right after serving in Afghanistan.

contact Adriana Barragan at
lavoz@fhda.edu

photo courtesy of C.W.Driver.com

REBUILDING THE PAST- The new Education Center will take the place of Lockheed's "Blue Cube" at the site of the former Onizuka Air Force Station.

from DRIVER pg 1

standard, strict competitive bidding process in choosing C.W. Driver for the job," said Kevin McElroy, the district's vice chancellor of business services.

"Among the strong pool of proposals submitted, C. W. Driver presented the best overall package and pricing to win the award."

C.W. Driver's San Mateo office representative Christopher Graber said the company's staff is excited about the building for the Foothill-De Anza district.

"We wanted to work with a district for quite some time, and are looking forward to starting a relationship with this district."

The Education Center will cost an estimated $38 million.

According to the district's communications coordinator Becky Bartindale, the education center is affiliated with Foothill College administratively, but De Anza College is welcome to offer classes at the new center.

According to Graber, the designs for the new center are unfinished and still in the making, but once a design for the center is established, it should take three years to complete.

contact Jannelle Garcia at
lavoz@fhda.edu

We have a seat waiting for you.

Top ranked business school.
Supportive environment.
Completely online.

Marketing, Management, Finance,
Hospitality & Tourism, and MORE!

Find out more:

isenberg.umass.edu/onlinebba

DASB Senate discusses college's move to add classes, elects new senator

Ifra Iftikhar
Staff Writer

After the anxiety of Prop 30 and the sobering reality of budget cuts, the DASB Senate discussed good news for De Anza College students at its meeting Nov. 14.

The college will add more classes in high-demand subjects starting Winter 2013.

There will be more student seats and more funding for classes.

De Anza spends only about 50.7 percent of its resources on instruction, but plans are set to increase funding for instruction if student enrollment increases.

"We need to increase full-time student enrollment by around 1,300," said Andrew A. Zhou, a DASB senator.

There are going to be fewer staff positions cut as a result of Prop 30's passage.

The Foothill-De Anza district would have had to cut 40-45 staff and faculty positions if Prop 30 did not pass. Now, the number is at most around 28, and can only go lower which is another reason why it is crucial to increase student enrollment at De Anza and Foothill.

Sabrina Jueseekul was chosen as the newest DASB senate member during the mid-term elections for senator positions.

The candidates running were Nazgol Adeli, Tal Ben David, Sabrina Jueseekul, Naina Kalkunte and Daniel Kim.

Candidates presented their cases in front of the senate and guests, and were asked to leave the room so that the senators could discuss their strengths and weaknesses.

The most important question that the senators debated on was which candidate would best help the senate and the student body at large.

contact Ifra Iftikhar at
lavoz@fhda.edu

DeAnza voices

“What is your favorite bathroom on campus?”

Daniel Vit-Heydary, Biomedical engineering

“My favorite bathroom on campus is near the administration building because it’s right in the middle of the campus, and easy to access.”

Dante Accrizzi, Neuroscience

“The one over at the front by the Arts building because I feel less people use it.”

Mahez Darwish, Biology

“The bathroom downstairs of the cafeteria because it’s the cleanest.”

Li Fusum, Chemical engineering

“[Kirsch Center] is the best. First, it’s clean, and they use high technology; they use recycled material and save water.”

Kristina Atrero, Kinesiology

“The one by the PE building because it’s close to all my classes.”

-photos and interviews by Sally Lee Staff Writer

Conference prepares high school students for college

Noor Hakim Freelance Writer

About 300 high school students gathered at De Anza on Nov. 16 to take part in the 7th annual Youth Voices United for Change leadership conference planned by De Anza students for high school students.

“I think this is a great way for high schoolers to get a feel of De Anza,” said 20-year-old De Anza student Himi Arora. “When you put minds together, you come up with solutions for society.”

The participating high schools event were Andrew

Hill, Evergreen Valley, James Lick, Leigh, New Valley, Overfelt, Willow Glen, Yerba Buena, and Palo Alto.

Students chose from 15 workshops, ranging from making Day of the Dead altars to learning dance techniques and rhythm to learning the art of storytelling.

Speaker Danny “Dandiggity” Le talked about his Vietnamese soldier father and farmer mother who came to America and settled in the most unlikely of places, Oklahoma.

“I was the uncool kid who wore shorts that were too short,” said Le. “I was the girls’ best friend because I listened, but they would never date me.”

He is now a poet who travels around the country to present his work.

After the workshops, students were assigned by school to different Community Action Network leaders. They reflected about issues in the communities and action plans.

High school students said the event was positive.

“You get to know more about colleges and it prepares us for the future,” said 16-year-old Jennifer Quezada of James Lick High School. “When I start college, I’ll definitely be more prepared.”

contact Noor Hakim at lavoz@fhda.edu

NOOR HAKIM | La Voz Weekly

EMPOWERMENT - Keynote speaker Aiko Shirakawa shares her story with students.

Speakers, workshops inspire students

Dorothy Holford Staff Writer

Having Japanese and Mexican parents impacted how Aiko Shirakawa was perceived and treated by others. Her hair, eyes and last name prompted other children to ostracize her at school and in her neighborhood in East San Jose.

Now Shirakawa is an artist, promoter, teacher, youth advocate and celebrated hip-hop artist. She was the keynote speaker at the conference Youth Voices United for Change, where this year’s theme was “empowerment, expression and change through the arts.”

The purpose of the conference was to urge participants to celebrate their unique qualities, find their gifts or talents and use them to affect change in the world. Shirakawa and others encouraged high schoolers to be respectful to their fellow citizens, suggesting that positive change takes place one person at a time.

“Today was so important, not only for youth, but for the future of the U.S, for California and for the Bay Area,” Shirakawa said. “It made me feel hopeful, especially for the youth, who don’t have a lot of hope right now. After seeing so many faces here, I’m really proud to be a presenter.”

De Anza President Brian Murphy challenged the youth to “never give up on yourselves or your community.”

In the workshop “Heart to Heart: Art and Compassion Tag” students learned about stereotypes by playing The Label Game, facilitated by director of De Anza’s Social Justice and Multicultural Education program, Veronica Neal.

Euphrat director Diana Argabrite along with artist and teacher Lydia Sanchez facilitated the hands-on art portion.

The students first looked at photos on the walls of the museum and wrote what they thought of the people in the photos. Words like homeless, drunk and welfare mom came up along with “pig” referring to a picture of a policeman. Neal later read the words and told the students the real story behind the people in each picture. In most cases, the students had unfairly stereotyped the subject.

Students then made “art and compassion tags,” which were oversized price tags with values like compassion, respect and empathy.

“Students have learned about stereotypes and discrimination and experience empathy first

DOROTHY HOLFORD | La Voz Weekly

PRICE TAGS - High school students participate in a hands-on art workshop about stereotypes.

DOROTHY HOLFORD | La Voz Weekly

LABELS - Veronica Neal facilitates a workshop for high school students.

hand after they’ve put themselves in the shoes of another person who is victim to such labels,” Neal said.

contact Dorothy Holford at lavoz@fhda.edu

JOURNALISM

OPEN HOUSE, CLASSES, EDITOR POSITIONS

JOUR 61: Newspaper and Student Media Staff – 3 units

Tuesday/Thursday 4:30 to 5:45 p.m.

JOUR 62: Newspaper and Media Freelancing – 1 unit

Tuesday/Thursday 6 to 7 p.m.

JOUR 2: Mass Communication and its Impact on Society – 4 units

Several sections offered

JOUR 21a: News Writing and Reporting – 3 units

Monday/Wednesday 9:30 to 10:45 a.m.

JOUR 21b: Feature Writing and Reporting – 3 units

Tuesday/Thursday 9:30 to 10:45 a.m.

New Class:

JOUR 78X: PR Writing & Media Techniques – 2 units

This 2-unit Special Topics class is perfect for students interested in learning about the PR field or persuasive writing techniques; students planning to major in PR and students earning their A.A. in Journalism at De Anza.

Winter 2013: Wednesday only 3 to 4:50 p.m.

Instructor is Gail McElroy who has more than 20 years of experience as a public relations practitioner.

JOIN LA VOZ WEEKLY!

Register in JOUR 61 or JOUR 62

Attend our Open House Tuesday Dec. 4 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in L-41.

EDITOR POSITIONS

To apply for an editorial position, send a 300-word (or less) letter of intent to deckcecilia@deanza.edu. Include contact information, background experience, and position interested in. Positions include: Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor, Opinions, Features, Sports, Social Media and Web Editor. Deadline for letters is NOON on Friday, Dec. 7.

a night of masquerade and music
MYSTIC DANCE

A DANCE TO REMEMBER (TOP LEFT) - The crowd goes wild to music mixed by Beast Up DJ Productions.
FRIENDS, MASKS (TOP MIDDLE) - A group of friends show off their masks.
ELEGANT MASK (TOP RIGHT) - A masked man gives a thumbs up.
DANCE CIRCLE (BOTTOM RIGHT) - The guys show off their moves in the dance floor.
DANCE TO THE RHYTHM (BOTTOM MIDDLE) - Business administration major Jamila Smith and her date Val Alantar swing to the music.
HIT THE BEAT (BOTTOM LEFT) - Derek Cox, visiting from San Jose State, shows everyone how it's done at a four year university level.

photo courtesy of LIZZIE KNAUS | La Voz Weekly

Palo Alto University

PAU is currently accepting applications for Fall 2013!
Earn your Bachelor degree in Business Psychology or Psychology & Social Action.

- Graduate in 2 years
- Individualized personal attention
- Small class sizes
- Guaranteed course registration
- Internship opportunities
- Exceptional professors
- Admissions to PAU graduate programs
- Affordable private education
- Financial aid & scholarships
- Day & evening programs available

To learn more visit our web site www.paloalto.edu or drop by our office in the De Anza Counseling Center, Room 250.

Palo Alto University is a private, non-profit university, located in Palo Alto, California. Established in 1975, PAU has long been a leader in graduate level education in psychology. Most recently, PAU has partnered with the Foothill-De Anza Community College District to offer innovative Bachelor degree completion programs for transfer students seeking specialization in psychology.

Skincare

Four reasons to wash your face

Adriana Barragan
 Staff Writer

Washing your face should be in your daily routine. Dermatologists recommend washing your face every day, but have you ever wondered why? Here are a few reasons:

Why wash in the morning?

You don't necessarily need to use a cleanser to wash your face in the morning; all you need is a few splashes of water. According to newbeauty.com, "At night our skin is in repair mode and it will secrete toxins and sebum." Also, a quick rinse of the face will make your day-time products easier to apply, not to mention it is also a great way to wake yourself up and feel fresh.

Bacteria

"Sometimes we intentionally touch our face making our face the dirtiest part of our body," Celebrity esthetician Renee Rouleau said.

You are constantly touching doorknobs, cell phones and all other sorts of objects that are filled with bacteria. By cleaning your face every day, morning and night, you will avoid the spread of bacteria.

Acne

Everyone is prone to acne, whether you wear make up or not. However, if you do wear makeup, be mindful of all the harmful chemicals. Not only this, but forgetting to wash your face result in clogged pores which causes blemishes, zits and pimples.

Why wash at night?

To prevent the spread of acne, you need to wash your face after constantly coming in contact with bacteria and dirt throughout the day. You need to allow your skin to breathe at night so it can repair. As you cleanse your face you are also hydrating your skin.

contact Adriana Barragan at lavoz@fhda.edu

Women's basketball team crushes Delta College

Rosa Torres and Sally Lee
Staff Writer

The DeAnza College women's basketball team beat San Joaquin Delta College on Tuesday, Nov. 20 by a score of 54-41.

It was the first game of the season and beating Delta, which is ranked a Top 10 Nor-Cal Conference team, was a big win for the team.

De Anza gained the lead at the start of the game and maintained it until the end. They had excellent communication and consistent eye contact throughout the entire game.

At the end of the first quarter, De Anza led Delta by 8, with a score of 24-16.

During the second half, center Alex Scoffone was injured after taking a Delta's player's knee to her eye.

She did not return to the court, but her injury did not affect the Dons' determination; it may have pushed them more. As the clock wound down,

De Anza defeated Delta by a comfortable 13 points.

"It showed a lot about our team, It was a very big win for us because [Delta is] a really good team," said forward Sarah Shear.

Point guard Melissa Cabrera made a total of 14 points, including four 3-pointers.

"We came together before the game and worked hard at practice as a team and that's what brought us a win," Cabrera said.

Despite her injury, Alex Scoffone ended the night with 14 points and nine rebounds.

Point guard Shayla McPhearson, who had 15 rebounds said, "At times we let our fatigue get to us. I thought it was going to be an issue on defense because they like to run a lot but we held ourselves together really well."

Head coach Arden Kragalott praised the tactics the Dons took against the other team.

"We covered outside shooters, with them being much bigger than [us]. It's a staple win for our program," said Kragalott.

photos courtesy of RAJVIR KAUR | La Voz Weekly

FREE THROW (LEFT) - Forward Sarah Shear (21) shoots for an extra point during the game against San Joaquin Delta College Nov. 20 at De Anza College.

AIRBORN (RIGHT) - Center Sarah Scoffone goes for the field goal in the match Nov. 20. The Dons went on to beat San Joaquin Delta 54 - 41.

contact Rosa Torres and Sally Lee at lavoz@fhda.edu

TIPS TO KICK START YOUR METABOLISM

Christine Jehng
Sports Co-editor

your muscles are, and the more fit your body becomes. IT's also the easiest way to boost metabolism and keep those pounds.

1. Don't starve yourself

Most people think that by not eating, your body isn't consuming any calories but that's not true. By depriving your body of calories, the thyroid starts to slow down and compensate. Starving yourself puts your body in "survival mode" which slows your metabolism down so the little food you do consume won't be burnt off as quickly.

2. Drink lots of water

You can't function without it. By drinking more water (at least eight cups a day), you can wipe out the toxins in your body and keep your metabolism going.

3. Sleep

Sleep is extremely important; it is essential to maintaining a healthy lifestyle. Being sleep deprived causes lazy behavior and crazy eating habits, so sleep!

4. Eat Spicy Food

Studies have shown that enhancing your meal with a little chili or peppers can speed up your metabolism.

5. Sweat Daily:

Exercise! It's a no brainer. The more you exercise, the leaner

6. Avoid alcohol

It counteracts your metabolism and causes it to slow down.

7. Eat breakfast

Breakfast is essential to kick-starting your metabolism. It's like warming your car up before you drive to keep your car in good condition and for better performance.

8. Reduce your stress

It's easier said than done but physical and emotional stress actually causes your body to slow down. Stress also causes excessive eating. Finding a better way to handle your daily life problems can keep you feeling healthier and fitter.

9. Drink green tea

Green tea is filled with antioxidants that can boost your metabolism.

10. Turn down the heat

By keep your home a little chillier, not putting yourself at risk for hypothermia, your body will use up extra calories just to keep warm.

contact Christine Jehng at lavoz@fhda.edu

TIPS FOR A STRONGER IMMUNE SYSTEM

Kelsey Purpura
Staff Writer

Staying healthy can help your immune system fight the common cold.

Laryn Hoggard, 21, environmental studies and anthropology major at De Anza College, has a home remedy as she peels and puts ginger in a pot and boils it for about 15 minutes. Then Hoggard adds cloves and boils it all together for another 10 to 15 minutes. After that, she removes the cloves and adds lemon or lime juice and sugar or honey for flavor.

Ngoc Long, a nurse practitioner at De Anza's Health Center had more tips to cold sufferers:

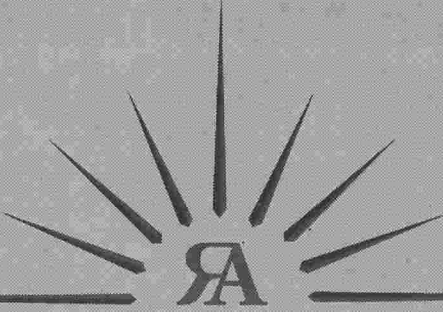

- Wash your hands, because that's the most common cause of transmission of viruses and bacteria.

- Get plenty of rest, get exercise, and keep a healthy diet.
- If you are going to cough or sneeze, make sure you cover your mouth.
- It's best to cough or sneeze in the corner of your elbow, rather than your hands, because your hands are what is touching everything else and is what is transmitting germs.
- Use disposable tissue rather than a handkerchief.
- If you're a smoker, smoking cessation is always good, if you're a drinker, limiting how much you drink is good.

Stay healthy!

contact Kelsey Purpura at lavoz@fhda.edu

RIO ADOBE

SOUTHWEST CAFE

BOLD FLAVORS FROM THE SOUTHWEST

~ Real Food from Local Farms
~ Margaritas, Sangria, Mexican Beers
~ Family Friendly & Kids Menu

408-873-1600

Dine in or Take out

10525 S. De Anza Blvd. Cupertino

LA VOZ WEEKLY

L-Quad Room 41
21250 Stevens Creek Blvd.
Cupertino, CA 95014
P: (408) 864-5626
F: (408) 864-5533
E: lavoz@fhda.edu
W: lavozdeanza.com

EDITORIAL BOARD

Sara Gobets | Editor in Chief
Saksham Rai | Opinions Editor
Yrady Olmeta | Features Co-Editor
Mariah Bravo | Features Co-Editor
Radhika Iyer | News Editor
Brenda Norrie | Assistant News Editor
Rajvir Kaur | Sports Co-Editor
Christine Iching | Sports Co-Editor

BUSINESS STAFF

Cecilia Deck | Faculty Adviser
deckcecilia@fhda.edu
Walter Alvarado | Lab Technician
alwardowalter@fhda.edu
Michael Mannina | Business Manager
lavozadvertising@gmail.com

ABOUT US

La Voz Weekly is a First Amendment newspaper written and published by De Anza College Students.

La Voz Weekly is a partially funded by the De Anza Associated Student Body and is printed at San Francisco Newspaper Printing Company. All rights reserved, no part of La Voz Weekly may be reproduced without permission.

Staff editorials reflect the opinions of the majority not necessarily the author or the opinions of the La Voz staff. Opinions expressed by staff and contributors are the opinions of the individuals and not necessarily the opinion of La Voz Weekly. Editorials are the opinion of the editorial board only and do not necessarily represent those of the entire staff. Columns are the opinion of the writer. Letters are the opinions of the reader.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the editor can be submitted to lavoz@fhda.edu or at: lavozdeanza.com. Letters could be 300 words or less; letters more than 300 words may be edited for length. Letter authors must include a phone number in submissions. Letter content must not be libelous or intended to air personal grievances. La Voz does not guarantee that submissions and letters to the editors will be printed. La Voz reserves the right to edit letters and submissions for clarity in accordance with Associated Press writing style. Letters submitted for the printed edition of La Voz Weekly may be published in the online edition.

ADVERTISING

Press releases and submissions can be submitted to lavozdeanza.com. La Voz does not guarantee coverage of events for which it receives press releases. Contact Business manager Michael Mannina by phone at 408-864-5626 or e-mail to lavozadvertising@gmail.com for rates. Rate sheets can also be found at the website.

PHOTO REPRINTS

Images published in La Voz Weekly or online at www.lavozdeanza.com are available for purchase. Contact Business manager Michael Mannina to place an order.

LA VOZ CORRECTIONS

The Nov. 19 issue "De Anza Voices" was written and photographed by Noopur Iatania

lavoz@fhda.edu

Free money for students: Scholarships go unclaimed

Nareen Bagdasarian
Staff Writer

Each year, thousands of students apply for financial aid through FAFSA, but few students are aware of the hundreds of thousands of dollars in scholarship money waiting to be put to good use.

FAFSA is Federal and State financial aid, which has no specific criteria for awarding money other than economic status and a certain degree of academic status.

Scholarships at De Anza College, however, come from private donors who can create their own criteria, including scholarships based on major, extracurricular involvement, community service, GPA and economic status.

Sarah Carrao, a Financial Aid and Scholarships Office assistant at De Anza, said more students have been applying for and earning scholarships in recent years, likely because of the economic downturn.

Last year, De Anza dispersed $216,000 in scholarships. But there have been times when significant amounts of available scholarship money were left unclaimed by students.

The Student Success and Retention Service program and Financial Aid offices hold workshops a couple of times a year to inform students solely about scholarship resources and prepare them for submitting strong applications.

There are also links on the De Anza website to the scholarships and financial aid pages, which show some of the scholarships posted. Students may also sign up for the listserv, which puts you on a list so that you can be notified if and when any scholarships are available or check the bulletin board at the Financial Aid Office for announcements.

Even with these resources, many students are still not aware of the scholarship money potentially available to them, or simply don't realize they are eligible to apply. "The scholarship process is competitive, but any De Anza student—even if they are international or undocumented—can apply," said Carrao.

William Madden, an academic advisor with the Transfer Center and SSRS said there is a personal responsibility element. "The student needs to be efficient and get out and probe around and find out what possibilities are available to them," he said.

Madden said students should try looking around for scholarships in their local communities, including small businesses or organizations that want to donate for particular interests.

There are usually over 50 scholarships available ranging anywhere from $500 to $2,000 for private donors.

There are also national scholarships worth anywhere between $10,000 and $50,000 thousand dollars. To receive awards by May 2013, students need to apply through the De Anza website by Feb. 14, 2013.

"I encourage all students to apply," said Carrao. "The application process is pretty simple and an hour or two of work could pay off big, with awards of up to a couple thousand dollars towards school."

To learn more about De Anza Scholarships go to www.deanza.edu/financialaid/scholarshipgiving

contact Nareen Bagdasarian at lavoz@fhda.edu

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor,

I read with interest your articles in La Voz Nov. 19, regarding the custodial staffing and the students picking up the campus.

I am a trash-a-holic.

I walk my dog each morning and on Saturdays I pick trash on McClellan from Stelling to the high school, the Monta Vista parking lot and then onto the 7-Eleven perk pond and railroad tracks. This yields three to four bags.

On Sundays we do some of the De Anza, parking lots, Sunken Gardens and the campus center. Again, several bags.

Once a month, I volunteer for an "Adopt an Highway" groups that pick ups our adopted two miles of Highway 280. Each month we pick more than 30 bags of trash and three bags of recyclables.

This is an ongoing problem. I am astounded how the "Green Generation" simply tosses their garbage out the window in the parking lots: Burger King, Starbucks, Togo's, the whole mess and not 10 feet from a trash can. De Anza a non smoking campus? What a joke; you can't believe the number of cigarette packages I pick up weekly.

I applaud your "clean up the campus day." However, this is an ongoing problem. I suggest you revive the "De Anza Pride" campaign and push to get more trash cans. For example, there are only two in front of the new Visual Arts and

Media building. There are only one or two between the Stelling Parking structure and the athletic fields. DeAnza can use more trash cans.

I also recommend you focus on educating the masses on keeping our campus clean. If anti-litter campaigns are successful, then "clean up the campus" events would not be required. Unfortunately, they are necessary, and maybe you could organize them on a monthly basis. Unfortunately, you would find lots of trash to pick.

-Someone who cares
(Name withheld on request)

TRASHING TRASH -De Anza students collect bags of trash on campus Nov. 8.

SALLY LEE | La Voz Weekly

PANNU DENTAL GROUP

Multi-Specialty Family Dentistry

invisalign

straight teeth, no braces™

*Smile like a star

Karan Brar! (Ravi)

From the 'Diary of a Wimpy Kid' movies and Disney series 'JESSIE' !!

"My Invisalign has made such a difference. I cannot thank Pannu Dental enough for the amazing job they have done!"

- Karan Brar

$2,900.00*

Invisalign Treatment

(Offer Expires March 31, 2013)

Exclusively from www.pannudental.com

*Individual results can vary. Conditions and restrictions apply. Treatment for up to 1 year.

SAN JOSE

FREMONT

CUPERTINO

DUBLIN

Call Now 1-800-360-9250

Limited spots available

Women's basketball team crushes Delta College

Rosa Torres and Sally Lee
Staff Writer

The DeAnza College women's basketball team beat San Joaquin Delta College on Tuesday, Nov. 20 by a score of 54-41.

It was the first game of the season and beating Delta, which is ranked a Top 10 Nor-Cal Conference team, was a big win for the team.

De Anza gained the lead at the start of the game and maintained it until the end. They had excellent communication and consistent eye contact throughout the entire game.

At the end of the first quarter, De Anza led Delta by 8, with a score of 24-16.

During the second half, center Alex Scoffone was injured after taking a Delta's player's knee to her eye.

She did not return to the court, but her injury did not affect the Dons' determination; it may have pushed them more.

As the clock wound down,

De Anza defeated Delta by a comfortable 13 points.

"It showed a lot about our team, It was a very big win for us because [Delta is] a really good team," said forward Sarah Shear.

Point guard Melissa Cabrera made a total of 14 points, including four 3-pointers.

"We came together before the game and worked hard at practice as a team and that's what brought us a win," Cabrera said.

Despite her injury, Alex Scoffone ended the night with 14 points and nine rebounds.

Point guard Shayla McPhearson, who had 15 rebounds said, "At times we let our fatigue get to us. I thought it was going to be an issue on defense because they like to run a lot but we held ourselves together really well."

Head coach Arden Kragalott praised the tactics the Dons took against the other team.

"We covered outside shooters, with them being much bigger than [us]. It's a staple win for our program," said Kragalott.

photos courtesy of RAJVIR KAUR | La Voz Weekly

FREE THROW (LEFT) - Forward Sarah Shear (21) shoots for an extra point during the game against San Joaquin Delta College Nov. 20 at De Anza College.

AIRBORN (RIGHT) - Center Sarah Scoffone goes for the field goal in the match Nov. 20. The Dons went on to beat San Joaquin Delta 54 - 41.

contact Rosa Torres and Sally Lee at lavoz@fhda.edu

TIPS TO KICK START YOUR METABOLISM

Christine Jehng
Sports Co-editor

your muscles are, and the more fit your body becomes. IT's also the easiest way to boost metabolism and keep those pounds.

1. Don't starve yourself

Most people think that by not eating, your body isn't consuming any calories but that's not true. By depriving your body of calories, the thyroid starts to slow down and compensate. Starving yourself puts your body in "survival mode" which slows your metabolism down so the little food you do consume won't be burnt off as quickly.

2. Drink lots of water

You can't function without it. By drinking more water (at least eight cups a day), you can wipe out the toxins in your body and keep your metabolism going.

3. Sleep

Sleep is extremely important; it is essential to maintaining a healthy lifestyle. Being sleep deprived causes lazy behavior and crazy eating habits, so sleep!

4. Eat Spicy Food

Studies have shown that enhancing your meal with a little chili or peppers can speed up your metabolism.

5. Sweat Daily:

Exercise! It's a no brainer. The more you exercise, the leaner

6. Avoid alcohol

It counteracts your metabolism and causes it to slow down.

7. Eat breakfast

Breakfast is essential to kick-starting your metabolism. It's like warming your car up before you drive to keep your car in good condition and for better performance.

8. Reduce your stress

It's easier said than done but physical and emotional stress actually causes your body to slow down. Stress also causes excessive eating. Finding a better way to handle your daily life problems can keep you feeling healthier and fitter.

9. Drink green tea

Green tea is filled with antioxidants that can boost your metabolism.

10. Turn down the heat

By keep your home a little chillier, not putting yourself at risk for hypothermia, your body will use up extra calories just to keep warm.

contact Christine Jehng at lavoz@fhda.edu

TIPS FOR A STRONGER IMMUNE SYSTEM

Kelsey Purpura
Staff Writer

Staying healthy can help your immune system fight the common cold.

Laryn Hoggard, 21, environmental studies and anthropology major at De Anza College, has a home remedy as she peels and puts ginger in a pot and boils it for about 15 minutes. Then Hoggard adds cloves and boils it all together for another 10 to 15 minutes. After that, she removes the cloves and adds lemon or lime juice and sugar or honey for flavor.

Ngoc Long, a nurse practitioner at De Anza's Health Center had more tips to cold sufferers:

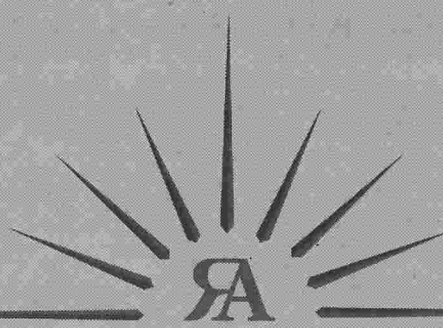

- Wash your hands, because that's the most common cause of transmission of viruses and bacteria.

- Get plenty of rest, get exercise, and keep a healthy diet.
- If you are going to cough or sneeze, make sure you cover your mouth.
- It's best to cough or sneeze in the corner of your elbow, rather than your hands, because your hands are what is touching everything else and is what is transmitting germs.
- Use disposable tissue rather than a handkerchief.
- If you're a smoker, smoking cessation is always good, if you're a drinker, limiting how much you drink is good.

Stay healthy!

contact Kelsey Purpura at lavoz@fhda.edu

RIO ADOBE

SOUTHWEST CAFE

BOLD FLAVORS FROM THE SOUTHWEST

~ Real Food from Local Farms
~ Margaritas, Sangria, Mexican Beers
~ Family Friendly & Kids Menu

408-873-1600
Dine in or Take out
10525 S. De Anza Blvd. Cupertino

LA VOZ WEEKLY

L-Quad Room 41
21250 Stevens Creek Blvd.
Cupertino, CA 95014
P: (408) 864-5626
F: (408) 864-5533
E: lavoz@fhda.edu
W: lavozdeanza.com

EDITORIAL BOARD

Sara Gobets | Editor in Chief
Saksham Rai | Opinions Editor
Yrady Olmeta | Features Co-Editor
Mariah Bravo | Features Co-Editor
Radhika Iyer | News Editor
Brenda Norrie | Assistant News Editor
Rajvir Kaur | Sports Co-Editor
Christine Jehng | Sports Co-Editor

BUSINESS STAFF

Cecilia Deck | Faculty Adviser
deckcecilia@fhda.edu
Walter Alvarado | Lab Technician
alvaradowalter@fhda.edu
Michael Mannina | Business Manager
lavozadvertising@gmail.com

ABOUT US

La Voz Weekly is a First Amendment newspaper written and published by De Anza College Students.

La Voz Weekly is a partially funded by the De Anza Associated Student Body and is printed at San Francisco Newspaper Printing Company. All rights reserved, no part of La Voz Weekly may be reproduced without permission.

Staff editorials reflect the opinions of the majority not necessarily the author or the opinions of the La Voz staff. Opinions expressed by staff and contributors are the opinions of the individuals and not necessarily the opinion of La Voz Weekly. Editorials are the opinion of the editorial board only and do not necessarily represent those of the entire staff. Columns are the opinion of the writer. Letters are the opinions of the reader.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the editor can be submitted to lavoz@fhda.edu or at: lavozdeanza.com. Letters could be 300 words or less; letters more than 300 words may be edited for length. Letter authors must include a phone number in submissions. Letter content must not be libelous or intended to air personal grievances. La Voz does not guarantee that submissions and letters to the editors will be printed. La Voz reserves the right to edit letters and submissions for clarity in accordance with Associated Press writing style. Letters submitted for the printed edition of La Voz Weekly may be published in the online edition.

ADVERTISING

Press releases and submissions can be submitted to lavozdeanza.com. La Voz does not guarantee coverage of events for which it receives press releases. Contact Business manager Michael Mannina by phone at 408-864-5626 or e-mail to lavozadvertising@gmail.com for rates. Rate sheets can also be found at the website.

PHOTO REPRINTS

Images published in La Voz Weekly or online at www.lavozdeanza.com are available for purchase. Contact Business manager Michael Mannina to place an order.

LA VOZ CORRECTIONS

The Nov. 19 issue "De Anza Voices" was written and photographed by Noopur Jatania

lavoz@fhda.edu

Free money for students: Scholarships go unclaimed

Nareen Bagdasarian
Staff Writer

Each year, thousands of students apply for financial aid through FAFSA, but few students are aware of the hundreds of thousands of dollars in scholarship money waiting to be put to good use.

FAFSA is Federal and State financial aid, which has no specific criteria for awarding money other than economic status and a certain degree of academic status.

Scholarships at De Anza College, however, come from private donors who can create their own criteria, including scholarships based on major, extracurricular involvement, community service, GPA and economic status.

Sarah Carrao, a Financial Aid and Scholarships Office assistant at De Anza, said more students have been applying for and earning scholarships in recent years, likely because of the economic downturn.

Last year, De Anza dispersed $216,000 in scholarships. But there have been times when significant amounts of available scholarship money were left unclaimed by students.

The Student Success and Retention Service program and Financial Aid offices hold workshops a couple of times a year to inform students solely about scholarship resources and prepare them for submitting strong applications.

There are also links on the De Anza website to the scholarships and financial aid pages, which show some of the scholarships posted. Students may also sign up for the listserv, which puts you on a list so that you can be notified if and when any scholarships are available or check the bulletin board at the Financial Aid Office for announcements.

Even with these resources, many students are still not aware of the scholarship money potentially available to them, or simply don't realize they are eligible to apply.

"The scholarship process is competitive, but any De Anza student—even if they are international or undocumented—can apply," said Carrao.

William Madden, an academic advisor with the Transfer Center and SSRS said there is a personal responsibility element. "The student needs to be efficient and get out and probe around and find out what possibilities are available to them," he said.

Madden said students should try looking around for scholarships in their local communities, including small businesses or organizations that want to donate for particular interests.

There are usually over 50 scholarships available ranging anywhere from $500 to $2,000 for private donors.

There are also national scholarships worth anywhere between $10,000 and $50,000 thousand dollars. To receive awards by May 2013, students need to apply through the De Anza website by Feb. 14, 2013.

"I encourage all students to apply," said Carrao. "The application process is pretty simple and an hour or two of work could pay off big, with awards of up to a couple thousand dollars towards school."

To learn more about De Anza Scholarships go to www.deanza.edu/financialaid/scholarshipgiving

contact Nareen Bagdasarian at lavoz@fhda.edu

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor,

I read with interest your articles in La Voz Nov. 19, regarding the custodial staffing and the students picking up the campus.

I am a trash-a-holic.

I walk my dog each morning and on Saturdays I pick trash on McClellan from Stelling to the high school, the Monta Vista parking lot and then onto the 7-Eleven perk pond and railroad tracks. This yields three to four bags.

On Sundays we do some of the De Anza, parking lots, Sunken Gardens and the campus center. Again, several bags.

Once a month, I volunteer for an "Adopt an Highway" groups that pick ups our adopted two miles of Highway 280. Each month we pick more than 30 bags of trash and three bags of recyclables.

This is an ongoing problem. I am astounded how the "Green Generation" simply tosses their garbage out the window in the parking lots: Burger King, Starbucks, Togo's, the whole mess and not 10 feet from a trash can. De Anza a non smoking campus? What a joke; you can't believe the number of cigarette packages I pick up weekly.

I applaud your "clean up the campus day." However, this is an ongoing problem. I suggest you revive the "De Anza Pride" campaign and push to get more trash cans. For example, there are only two in front of the new Visual Arts and

Media building. There are only one or two between the Stelling Parking structure and the athletic fields. DeAnza can use more trash cans.

I also recommend you focus on educating the masses on keeping our campus clean. If anti-litter campaigns are successful, then "clean up the campus" events would not be required. Unfortunately, they are necessary, and maybe you could organize them on a monthly basis. Unfortunately, you would find lots of trash to pick.

-Someone who cares
(Name withheld on request)

TRASHING TRASH -De Anza students collect bags of trash on campus Nov. 8.

SALLY LEE | La Voz Weekly