

Chair, Fine Arts resignation in '72

Royal Stanton, De Anza's chairman of Fine Arts, has announced his intention to resign his position effective June 30, 1972. He intends to continue as director of the Schola Cantorum and instructor at De Anza.

In a letter to Dr. A. Robert DeHart and Don Fraser, Stanton stated, "This action in no way reflects dissatisfaction, pique, or any implied criticism of persons, policies or systems. My years in the chairmanship have been rewarding, exciting and I feel they have been productive."

Stanton, who holds a B.E. and M.A. from UCLA, first came to the district as chairman of Fine Arts Division of Foothill College and served in that position from 1961-67.

IN 1967 he transferred to De Anza to found the newly opened school's Fine Arts Division, serving as its chairman since.

He also stated in the letter that he feels his energy and health make it impossible for him to continue in three duties: as division chairman, instructor and conductor of the Schola Cantorum, which he founded in 1964.

Continuing in the letter, he said, "I honestly feel that the division would benefit from a change of leadership. This is a fine staff and I take satisfaction in having helped choose them. We easily fall into ruts and the challenge of adjusting to new leadership would stimulate us to new creativity."

Stanton, a member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, has received three consecutive yearly awards from them.

He has over 65 compositions and arrangements in print with various national publishing organizations and has studied composition, advanced counterpoint, and formal analysis under Austrian master composer Arnold Schoenberg.

STANTON taught for seven years in Southern California junior and senior high schools and was a visiting professor of choral conducting at UCLA, summer of 1959 and O Occidental College, summer of 1961. He was an instructor of choral music, voice, theory, music history and appreciation and speech from 1950-61 as well as chairman of the music department at Long Beach City College from 1958-61.

He served as director of the Los Angeles Bach Festival in 1959 and 1960 and organized and conducted the Long Beach Schola Cantorum, 1952-61.

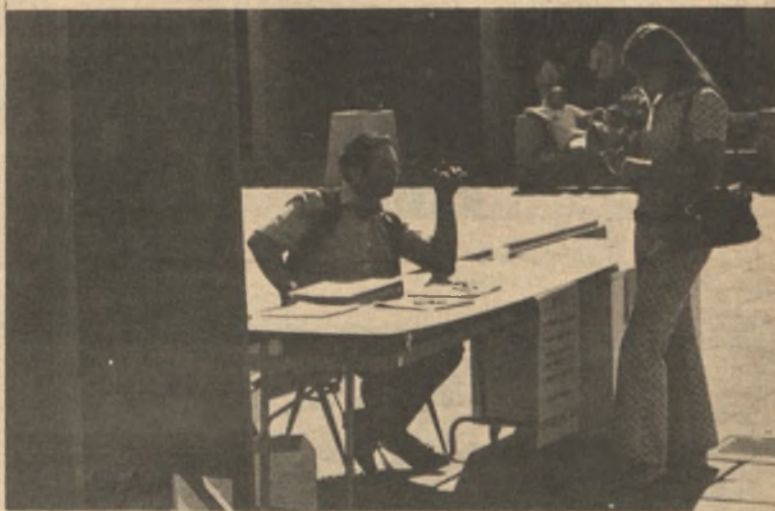

AS FOR the future, Stanton stated, "It has been about four years since I have been able to compose anything and about the same amount of time since I have been able to introduce anything new or innovative as a teacher."

He is also the author of two books, one on choral conducting and another on class voice, and has been approached by publishers to do more in his field.

Royal Stanton

He has seen the division grow from one art instructor to seven, two music instructors to five, one photo instructor to two, and no drama instructor to three.

Voters went to the polls this week for a special election of representatives at large and division representatives. New representatives at large are Dave Burton, Gary Borges, Sammy Croom, Thomas Dippel, Ralph Elliott, Diane Kafantaris, Cynthia Lewis, Susie Miller, Chris Racanelli, Peter Verga and Sherman Wright. Division representatives are: in Biological and Health Sciences, Karen Houck; in Physical Sciences and Athletics, Tom Clements; in Social Sciences, Ralph Laurie; in Business, Stephan Jones. Results which are not yet available are winners for Fine Arts Representative (candidates are Tim Harris and Joan Pearson), and for Chemistry and Physical Sciences (Larry Jacobs and George Masters).

Council supports instructor pay raise

A resolution was passed by Student Council Monday afternoon condemning the 3.65 percent pay decrease taken by De Anza instructors. Included in the resolution were a promise from the Council that ASDAC would support the teachers in whatever efforts they make to get their wages returned to what they were, and a promise to make the student body aware of the teacher's plight.

In a report to the Council which fathered the above resolution, Mike Hernandez mentioned that student enrollment exceeded the projected figures by 200. This over enrollment will bring more state aid to education to the De Anza Foothill Community College District and will alleviate some of the financial strain the FCCD is in. It may allow teachers to regain the salary that was cut.

Hernandez also mentioned that although De Anza is geared to transfer its students to the UC system only 1/2 percent of the students who transfer, transfer to a University. The majority of transferees go to state colleges.

In view of this, he said that the Faculty Senate is considering changing the emphasis of the courses here to fit the state college's transfer requirements.

In the same meeting council passed a motion to give $20.40 to Mrs. Frances Stanga, a new DAC counselor to pay for gas when her Guidance 58 class goes on field trips.

The Guidance 58 course is a new one designed especially for foreign students. The students will be taking tours of colleges, universities and businesses in the bay area.

A motion to donate $104.20 to Ebe Hunter, whose house recently burned, was passed by Council.

Also passed was a motion that ASDAC should stay in the California Community College Student Government Association.

Operation SHARE begins fourth year SHAREing

By MARYALYCE BOUMANN
La Voz Feature Editor

"It's a way of life."
"It's sharing yourself with another human being."
Those are only a couple of expressions that describe Operation SHARE.

The program is now in its fourth year of operation. Last July it was legislated into the state budget, so that soon it may be expanded to a state-wide program.

ONE DE ANZA student, Gary Hill, explains how he became involved in this worthwhile project: "Today a lot of kids are into peace. They go to their rallies, talk about revolution and criticize the world as it is. That's not the way. You've got to get into the community and help others. Then you can spread your ideas of caring and love to others."

Many people have a few misconceptions about SHARE. It is NOT designed on an authoritative "you learn this" basis. It is a relaxed, self-gratifying program that offers opportunities both to the child and to his tutor.

THE PROCEDURE to become a tutor is easy. You go to F31a,

Coca-Cola given hiatus after term as vendor here

The Coca-Cola Company, responsible for the vending concession at De Anza College during the past three school years, has been underbid by Canteen Corp. to supply and maintain vending machines here.

Last week approximately 30 machines were replaced with new machines belonging to the Canteen Corp.

The school will benefit from an increase in commissions as well as having new equipment. A further advantage will be having Canteen Corp. employees to handle refunds.

Previously the refunds were handled for Coca-Cola by secretaries in the Student Activities Office.

DAC enrollment jumps as College Hour wanes

College Hour is slowly diminishing at De Anza College as enrollment increase, demands are made for more academic courses and too few students are willing to accept late classes.

During the last ASDAC President's Cabinet meeting, College Hour was taken under consideration. Don F. Frazer, dean of instructions, stated, "39 classes are presently scheduled during College Hour with the possibility of more to come as DAC enrollment increases."

LATE CLASS scheduling has been rejected by most students but there are only so many hours in any one day to hold all the classes now in demand. This rejection, in time, may cause the demise of the College Hour.

At present, the tight scheduling

Mary Ann Sklar's (co-ordinator of SHARE) office and choose a child, using a large number of descriptive cards on file. Miss Sklar will set up an appointment for you with the child's teacher and also with his parents. From then on it's your ball, to carry whichever way you think is best. If you have any questions or you'd like some professional advice, Miss Sklar will always be ready to help.

Emphasis is not placed on academic success, but on communicating, understanding and stimulating your child. You can capture your child's attention any way you like. Former tutors have used anything from a screaming yellow zonker to a quiet library trip.

The program is run on a one-to-one basis. The child may grow to have tremendous respect for his tutor, yet the tutor should never think of himself as superior. He should behave as a best friend would.

KIDS CAN also act as a tutor's teacher (?) As Gary points out, "Last year my tutee (11 years) and I went over to the Highway 17 reservoir and he taught me how to fish. I'd never caught anything before."

It doesn't take much time; you meet with your child only twice a week. There's a unit of credit you can pick up for bringing a genuine smile onto another's face.

If you are interested in offering any services to SHARE, contact Mary Ann in F31a.

Green Catherine ripped off in Cellar robbery

The theft of over $1,000 worth of equipment may hurt operations at the Cellar. The robbery which occurred between closing time Friday night and the discovery of an open door on Saturday left the operations in the Cellar with a tab of $1,071.

The band, Green Catherine, had been playing a gig Friday night and were due to play again on Saturday night. Rather than cart their music equipment away and bring it back again on Saturday, they left it at the Cellar. Between 1:30 AM and 8:00 AM, Saturday morning, Green Catherine's sound mixer and several mike stands were stolen amounting to $591.

Win Smith of the A-V department reported that one tape recorder, valued at $200, and four microphones, valued at $70 apiece, were also taken along in the haul.

The Cellar is reportedly going to have to pay for all the equipment stolen. They are currently trying to get a student loan from ASDAC to pay off Green Catherine. The Cellar is hoping to schedule a benefit dance sometime in the future to raise money to repay the ASDAC loan.

also creates another problem of room availability for meetings.

The cabinet members are sincerely sympathetic with the situation while pointing out a school on the quarter system cannot space their classes as do schools on the semester system. The desires of DAC students - few late classes - are always taken into consideration when possible.

AT PRESENT there are few alternatives. Clubs could meet off-campus, College Hour could be held at 3:00 p.m. or the club meeting could try to work around the academic scheduling where possible.

Nothing concrete will be forthcoming until Alden Wright, Interclub Council Chairman, has a chance to make a study.

Campus police reported that the building was apparently entered with a key and they are working with the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Department in trying to solve the burglary.

Draft aid offered

Your number could be up. If so, a visit to the draft counselor is long overdue. Counseling is in Room F41K, Monday through Friday. For an appointment call Ext. 264. Ask for Birgit Kalvelage or Tom Goossen.

Draft counseling information is given for any problem that may arise concerning student deferments, conscientious objector status and medical deferments. Additional services concerning AWOL or any other military problems can also be handled by the counselors, who will refer the problem to the proper military authorities.

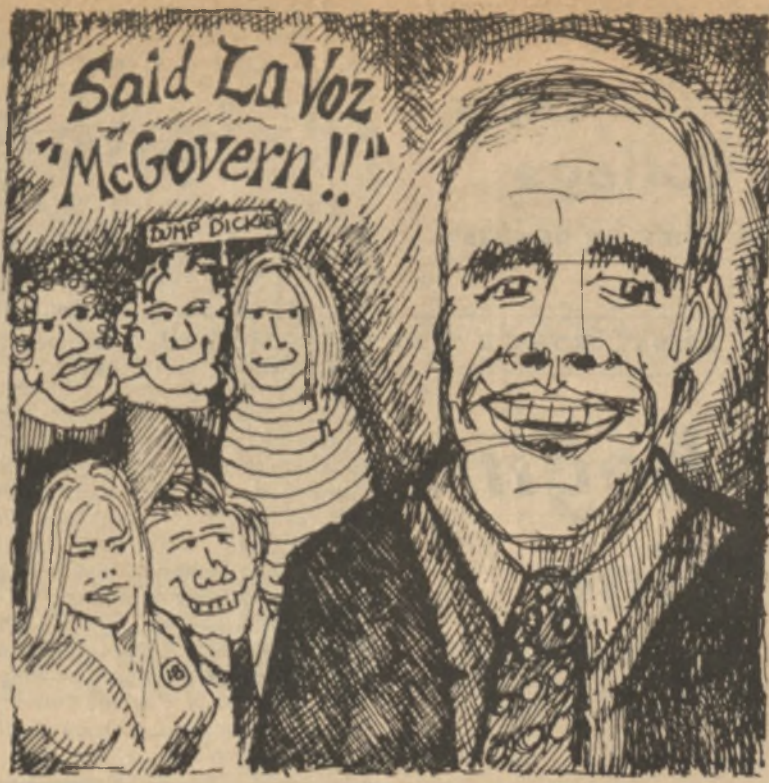

Traffic at the counseling office is increasing, and persons who are interested in becoming a counselor should call the counseling office. Counselors are required to have at least 24 hours of instruction, plus time working with an experienced person. Also, as the laws change, there is need for constant referral to the latest bulletins.

The counselors feel that anyone subject to being drafted should visit the office.

DAC gift legitimate

Editor,
In the La Voz edition of October 1, 1971, a letter was carried in which the writer implies that hanky-panky was practiced in the naming of De Anza's Minolta Planetarium.

The facts in the matter are these: 1) the Minolta Company did not supply "some" of the De Anza Planetarium's projection equipment free of charge as the writer asserts -- it supplied the entire projector free of charge, an installation worth $75,000; 2) the Minolta Company did, of course, supply this equipment "in order to have a showcase for its prospective customers in the United States" -- the Minolta Company is in business in order to sell planetarium equipment; and 3) it is not true that "the Director of Community Services arbitrarily asked the Board (of Trustees) to assign the planetarium the same name as that of the company" -- the fact is that naming the facility "The Minolta Planetarium" was a condition of the gift contract. In other words, without the name we could not have had the projector. In consideration of the value that would derive to the District, acceptance of the contract terms was recommended by the Coordinator of Community Services, ence Services, the Director of Community Services and the Superintendent of the District, and was finally approved by the Board.

So naming the facility seems to have been a wise decision, since it made completion of the planetarium at De Anza possible. Rowland K. Chase, Director Community Services

Marine shake-up

Dear Editor,
There is much debate today about what sort of activity should be allowed on our campuses. I am of the belief that everyone should be allowed to pursue their varied interests, but when those interests become the merciless and brutal slaughter of human beings, then action must be taken to suppress that activity.

I am horribly disturbed that the administration, faculty and students of De Anza College would allow representatives of the Marine Corps to recruit people right in the Student Union. When will people break out of their shells and wake up to the fact that thousands of human beings are dead because of these people?
One for humanity,
James Cearlock

Canadian art display here

A special exhibition of Canadian art is now being shown at the Helen Euphrat Memorial Gallery.

The display of graphics and photographs, which were arranged through the Canadian Consulate General in San Francisco, is there to coincide with last Wednesday's performance of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet at the Flint Center.

The 36 graphics represent current work in lithography, serigraphy and intaglio, and are from the Canadian Society of Graphic Art. The photos are the complete collection of the 1967 book, "Canada: Year of the Land."

The Canadian Consul General presented the opening of the display last Wednesday evening, and he also intends to attempt to arrange De Anza showings of award-winning films from the National Film Board of Canada.

The current exhibit will be on display through Oct. 31, and is free to the public. Gallery hours are: Monday through Friday 2-4 p.m. and 7-9 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday 1-4 p.m.

Standout among crowded race

(It is normally the policy of the editorial board to have unanimous approval of any editorials or letters to the editor which we publish. In this instance, however, there was one dissenting member. His rebuttal will appear in next week's issue. We would also like to restate our policy in regard to our readers. Equal space will be given to any other political candidate or to the endorsement of any political candidate).

In a day when there are at least ten presidential aspirants (excluding the present office holder) on the horizon, we are of the considered opinion that there is one who stands head and shoulders above the rest of the field.

He is Senator George McGovern from South Dakota. McGovern first expressed opposition to the Vietnam war in 1963 when, as one of his staff so aptly expressed it, "it was unpopular to be against the war."

He has consistently voted against draft legislation and against military appropriations for the continuation of the war.

He believes that by canceling the ABM program, the government can divert considerable monies toward the construction of houses, toward establishing a decent transportation system and toward ending welfare tamination and improving the health and welfare program. He feels there would also be sufficient funds to "provide decent jobs for all the unemployed."

On the issue of the nation's economy, McGovern is in favor of price stabilization but he objects to putting limits on wages. He feels that Mr. Nixon's economic program, rather than imposing an excess profits tax, gives business a tax break and is an imposition on the average wage earner.

One of McGovern's main issues is his advocacy of truth in government, something which has been sadly lacking in past administrations. On this he says he cannot implement "a course in private that we are ashamed to defend in public."

On federal aid to education, the Senator feels that the present support should be upped from four percent to better than fifty percent at the college level, especially in the area of financial aid to students.

We are aware that it is the constant cry of the politician to promise the people what they want to hear, but, in this case, we are also aware that McGovern's legislative record lends credence to the issues for which he stands.

Chinese student club organized

Just getting its start on the De Anza campus is the Chinese Club. Born of a concern for incoming Chinese students, it is by no means restricted to them, and welcomes those interested in Chinese lore and culture.

The first meeting was held last Thursday, and further gatherings will be held, temporarily at least, in the Campus Center, until a charter is received.

According to activities coordinator Sherry Hernandez, there are currently 14 interested members, "But they expect a larger turnout."

She added that the club is currently involved in writing a constitution and a petition to submit to the ICC.

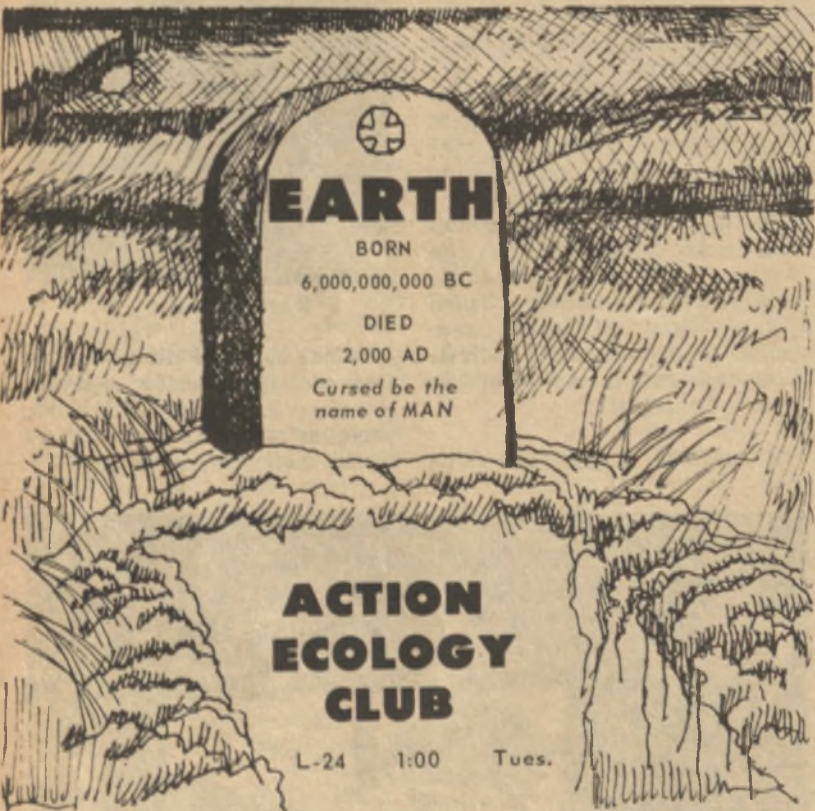

The club meets during regular college hours from 1-2 p.m.

Free shootout in Forum Friday

The widely acclaimed film, BONNIE AND CLYDE, will shoot its way into Forum Building I this evening at 8.

Admission is free to all De Anza and Foothill student card holders and 75 cents for the general public.

The movie, starring Warren Beatty and Faye Dunaway, explores violence. Superb photography and terrific acting create an aura of reality, even during the bloodiest scene.

Large percentage of vets unaware of their benefits

Veterans! Are you aware of the many benefits you are entitled to under the G.I. Bill?

Based on national statistics, at least 80 percent of America's veterans are not aware of the advantages of these benefits.

De Anza College veterans are at a distinct advantage over other vets in school because they have a veterans assistance office located in CC23. The office hours are 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

THIS OFFICE, run by Jim Berube, himself a veteran, will attempt to answer all questions concerning the G.I. Bill.

In addition to this, the office will assist in getting payments from the V.A. in San Francisco and help with other claims such as medical, dental, housing and additional loans.

Berube said that this office works in conjunction with, but is not connected with, the V.A.

HE ALSO mentioned that there are presently two bills before Congress advocating increased payments for veterans. One bill call for the increase of monthly benefits to $277, while the other calls for an increase to $325.

If you really want to find out about the benefits you are entitled to, a logical suggestion would be to go see Berube in CC23 and get the information.

Here are some of the questions most commonly asked by veterans concerning their benefits:

Question: I am a veteran attending De Anza full time. What is the required procedure to receive money for myself and dependants?

Answer: The required procedure is to send in your application (Form 1990), a copy of your DD-214 a copy of your marriage license and a copy of each child's birth or baptismal certificate. The certificate must show the name of the parents in order to be valid. Please include your claim number on each document to prevent misplacement in an incorrect file.

Question: How do I report a change of address?

Answer: No form is necessary. Send a letter to the San Francisco V.A. Office stating your full name, claim number, old address and new address. Also, notify your local post office immediately.

Question: What can I do if I should ever get overpaid by the V.A.?

Answer: If you can prove hardship, the odds are that you will not have to repay any money. However, you will be charged a month's entitlement for each $175, as always. If you fit this category, drop by the Veterans Assistance Office for more information.

Question: Am I eligible for hospitalization in a V.A. Hospital for a non-service-connected disability?

Answer: If you were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable, from six or more months of active duty, have your doctor notify the V.A. Hospital that you are in need of hospitalization. You must have a copy of your DD-214 and be unable to defray the cost of necessary hospital treatment. You will be admitted on a low-priority, space-available basis. Service connected disabilities have top priority.

Question: As a veteran, am I eligible for any dental treatment?

Answer: Dental services on a one-time completion basis may be furnished to veterans if you qualify under three rules. Eligibility will be conceded:

A - When the veteran was discharged or released with an honorable or general discharge from six or more months of active service.

B - When application is made within 12 months from the date of discharge or release, unless delayed through no fault of the veteran. Treatment must be completed within three years.

C - When it is reasonable to conclude that the dental disability existed at the time of separation or release from active duty.

'Cantebury' production makes literature likable

By TOM OSMOND
La Voz Staff Writer

Imagine it's 1386 and you and your friends are sitting in a tavern in the English countryside.

Tankards of ale are before you, probably your third or fourth, when the door opens and in walks some pilgrims on their way to Thomas a Becket's shrine at Canterbury.

KNOWING pilgrims to be notorious taletellers, you lift your elbow from the table and try to

Broln at DAC

Tomorrow night at 8 Broln, the Czechoslovakian folk company, comes to the Flint Center.

It is their first appearance in this country, running simultaneously with their shows at Masonic Auditorium in San Francisco tonight and Sunday.

The company consists of 36 singers, dancers and musicians, all dressed in bright native costumes, portray through song and dance the romantic heritage that has 'til now been available only to those behind the Iron Curtain.

Kornfeld Associates of San Francisco is producing this show, which still has tickets available at the Flint Center Box Office for $3.50, $4.50, $5.50 and $6.50.

Crosby, Nash at DAC on Sunday

David Crosby and Graham Nash are coming to the Flint Center this Sunday for probably the Center's finest pop concert this year.

After a short lay-off following their tour as Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, Crosby and Nash have united to once again go back on the road, with the De Anza show being their third in four nights.

At press time it was known that only a small handful of $6.50 tickets were still available, with all ticket outlets completely sold out of both $5.50 and $4.50 tickets.

But don't take chances . . . phone the Flint Center Box Office NOW at 257-9555, or better yet, get down there and lay your bread on 'em so you can be guaranteed a seat to hear songs such as "Chicago," "Deja Vu," "Music Is Love," and many of their other greatest hits.

wipe the grogginess from your eyes to listen -- for the Reeve (carpenter) and Miller are feuding and challenging each other.

"Now herkneth," quod the Millere," alike and some. But first I make a protestacioun that I am dronke: I knowe it by my tone of voice. And therefore if that I amiss peke or saye, wite it the ale of Southwrik, I you praye; for I wol telle a legende and a lif bothe of a carpenter and of his wif, how that a clerk hath set the wrightes cappe."

OF COURSE, if your imagination is below average you can't imagine such a scene, but students who attended the Faculty Readers Theatre of Chaucer's Canterbury Tales last Friday can attest to hearing the Miller and the Reeve slandering each other, plus hearing their entire tales of ribald English lower-class life.

And though these tales were part of 22 written by Geoffrey Chaucer around 1386, they are contemporary to our time.

ADULTERY and other obscene language ran amuck along with the chicanery and tomfoolery which makes these two tales among the funniest in English literature and enjoyable even to this day.

The performances of Helen Yuill, speech instructor; Wayne Shrope, speech instructor; David Kest, English instructor; George Willey, speech instructor and Jack Wright also an English instructor, was beyond reproach as attested by the standing-room only audience.

MANY TIMES during the narrative the performers were hard-pressed to keep straight faces while the audience had no trouble letting whatever inhibitions they had go.

Nowhere could you look without seeing someone smiling, laughing, giggling, roaring or exhibiting an expectation of the above.

Cy Gulassa of the English department, above all, deserves the accolades for making the performance possible. He intended it for his English 46A class of about 40 but was confronted with a crowd of over 150.

One hundred-and-fifty snorting, giggling, guffawing individuals who re-established their faith in what they thought was drab old English literature.

De Anza Dons win first of this season's football games

The De Anza football team, having won its first game of the season last Friday night, will try to make it two straight tonight when they entertain Contra Costa College at Foothill Stadium. Kick-off is slated for 8 p.m.

The victory came at the expense of highly touted Modesto College. The Pirates gave DAC quite a struggle as they were probably the biggest team in terms of weight the Dons will have to face all year. The final score was 18-17.

THE DONS opened the scoring in the first quarter on a one-yard run by Paul Fong. The drive had started on the Modesto 36 after Jeff Sevy intercepted a wayward Pirate aerial.

Modesto scored twice in the second quarter and let 14-7 at intermission. Both teams exchanged field goals in the third quarter for the only scoring and as the fourth period got underway Modesto had a 17-10 advantage.

What proved to be the winning touchdown came with 8:41 remaining in the game as Fong ran five-yards to cap a 25-yard drive.

WITH THE score 17-16, Jess Pifferini came into the game and lined up as if he were going to kick the extra point. But Pifferini took the direct snap from center and raced around right end for the two-point conversion and the win. That put the Dons out in front for good at 18-17.

The final chance Modesto had to pull the game out was snuffed by linebacker Dan Dawe when he intercepted a Pirate pass with 41 seconds left in the game.

Fong had another good night as he picked up 120 yards rushing on 29 carries. The offense as a whole, however, had trouble again with consistency in its drives. The Dons had to give up the football nine times via punts.

DE ANZA Coach Bob Pifferini was pleased with the win and especially with the fact that the Dons committed fewer errors than in past weeks.

"The win really gives us a lift, but we still have a long way to go," said Pifferini.

Tonight's game will be the first Camino Norte Conference test of the year for the Dons. Their record for non-league play was 1-3.

Contra Costa College boasts one of the finest running attacks in the Camino Norte Conference this year. The DAC defense will have to be at its best if the Dons plan on making it two-in-a-row.

Depth slows DAC

The lack of a tight-pack, five-man finishing squad is still plaguing the De Anza cross country team as they aim for the big Allan Hancock Invitational next week.

Last week, because of poor depth, De Anza suffered an eighth place out of 14 teams in the large school division at the NorCal Invitational at Sacramento.

ALTHOUGH some outstanding times were turned in by the front two runners for the Dons, Coach Jim Linthicum noted that the gap between the top three runners and the remaining fourth and fifth men is still too big and is costing the team precious points.

Freshman John Marshall was the first man in for the De Anza squad and the only De Anza runner in the top ten with his seventh place overall. Marshall's time for the four-mile course was 20:24, his best time this season by almost a minute. The time averaged out to about a 5:06 time, per mile, showing off Marshall's excellent condition this early in the season.

Coach Linthicum was extremely pleased with another freshman runner, Ken Anthony. Anthony was the second man in for De Anza, clocked at 20:28, which was a two-minute improvement over his previous best.

Jan Remak was third, and then almost a full, costly minute behind were Fred Wichmann and Mike Catlin, completing the five-man finishing squad.

Linthicum pointed out that the three Camino Norte Conference teams that had been beating him in the previous meets were ahead again last week, although Santa Rosa and College of Marin outdistanced De Anza by only two points.

TOMORROW, De Anza faces Santa Rosa again, but Linthicum stated he would not be going out to even the score with them, but would instead work through the meet in anticipation of the Allan Hancock Invitational next week.

The meet tomorrow will be a tri-meet at the Solano College course, famous for its hilly course and dangerously steep downhill grades.

Poloists keep on rolling, Cal jv's here tomorrow

By RICK THOMAN
La Voz Sports Writer

Coach Art Lambert has returned to the De Anza College water polo team and is busy winning, winning, winning. In the two matches played last week, Lambert's aquanauts outscored the opposition by at least 13 points in each match.

Last Thursday against Chabot College, the Dons took over the game right from the first quarter by compiling a five-point lead behind the scoring of Rick Rider, Rick Gebers, and Doug Healy.

DE ANZA never gave Chabot a chance to catchup as the Dons went right on scoring three more times in the second and third quarters, and rapping up the day with a free-for-all in the fourth quarter when they scored ten times.

Coach Lambert gave everybody a chance to play and the additional scoring was made through the efforts of Lennie Zappa, Joe Goss, Ralph Wigginton, Bob Hogan, Scott Haines, and Jeff Taylor.

Thursday's spirit carried over to Friday when the Dons went up against the College of Marin and blanked them 30-0.

THE DE ANZA bench was emptied by the second quarter as the Don water poloists made a mockery of the opposition's ineptness in the water.

Lambert was admittedly embarrassed by his team scoring so much, but he said, "They had been working hard all week and they deserved it."

This time it was Larry Wargo leading the team in total goals with five, followed by Joe Goss with four and about ten other players with an average of two apiece.

After the games they played last week, De Anza is going to have to psych-up for a difficult week of water polo that started yesterday when they went against the Stanford junior varsity team.

TODAY, the Dons meet Solano at Solano's pool, in a contest that is relatively up in the air. Lambert sees the Solano team as an unknown since this is their first year in water polo.

Culminating the three-day test of De Anza's skill and power in the water, will be a match with the University of California junior varsity team tomorrow in the De Anza pool at 11 a.m. Lambert stated that the Cal team would be the hardest battle as their junior varsity team almost always turns out to be as good as their varsity.

The most Meaningful Semester you'll ever spend... could be the one on World Campus Afloat

Sailing Feb. 1972 to Africa and the Orient

Through a transfer format, more than 5,000 students from 450 campuses have participated for a semester in this unique program in international education.

WCA will broaden your horizons, literally and figuratively... and give you a better chance to make it—meaningfully—in this changing world. You'll study at sea with an experienced cosmopolitan faculty, and then during port stops you'll study the world itself. You'll discover that no matter how foreign and far away, you have a lot in common with people of other lands.

WCA isn't as expensive as you might think; we've done our best to bring it within reach of most college students. Write today for free details.

Soccer team jells

After bouncing back with two wins last week to even their season record at 2-2, the De Anza soccer team travels to Skyline College this afternoon seeking another Camino Norte Conference win.

Last week the Dons beat Diablo Valley College 2-0 and also took the measure of Marin College 2-1. At press time the squad was preparing for an important match with defending state titlist Canada on Oct. 12.

In the match against DVC, Franz Parik and Ron Hulberg scored one goal each for the winners. Graham Start had another fine afternoon.

Doug Olson and Ted Brown led the scoring parade against Marin in the Camino Norte Conference inaugural of the season.

De Anza soccer mentor Bill Walker feels the team is improving every week. "The kids seem to be improving with every game and nobody has out-hustled us yet."

Walker praised the recent efforts of goalie Joe Prata.

"Joe gets our offense going and has been making some really good plays," Walker said. "He's the most impressive appearing goalie in the conference so far."

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right—20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing. You keep "full"—no starvation—because the diet is designed that way! It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home.

This is, honestly a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't, the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So, give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $1.00 ($1.25 for Rush Service)—cash is O.K.—to: Ski Team Diet, P.O. Box 15493, San Diego, Calif. 92115. Don't order unless you expect to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do!
